Democratic Elements In Greece Truman's Target, Tass Declares

Senate GOP Leaders Seek Speedy Action

WASHINGTON, March 13, (AP) — Senate Republican chiefs signalled today for a speedy decision on President Truman's proposal to bolster Greece and Turkey against Communism. They will seek action by March 31, when the British plan to retrench.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, told reporters March 31 is "a firm date" by which the administration wants Congress to complete action, although the President mentioned no deadline yesterday in his message. That date is the end of the British fiscal year.

Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, also set March 31 for a deadline in announcing plans for his group to hold public hearings. He suggested that the House Foreign Affairs Committee hold hearings as well.

House Action First Planned

The plan is for the House to act first, however, on the proposals — providing $400,000,000 cash and authorizing indirect military help. What the House does, therefore, will largely determine whether the deadline is met, despite the plans laid by the Senate leaders.

Three other issues in the field of foreign affairs claimed attention in the House today:

1. Rep. Taber (R-NY), chairman of the Appropriations Committee, announced it has rejected a State Department request for authority to send Russia $25,000,000 worth of oil refining equipment procured for the Soviets under the lend-lease program but not yet shipped. The department held the United States is required to make good on the contract but Taber told newsmen that "we can't do such a thing — that's appeasement."

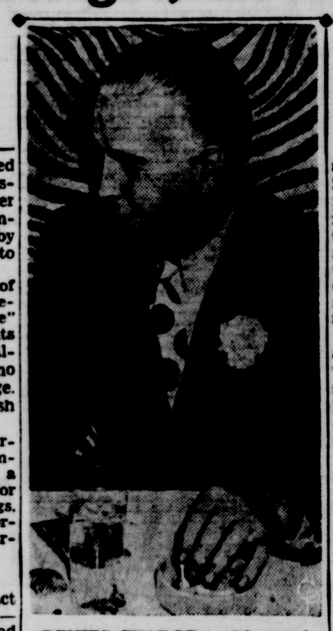
2. A bill to repeal the act which set up the Civilian Atomic Energy Commission for domestic control of atomic developments and operations was introduced by Rep. Landis (R-Ind). He would restore full control to the military in view of the foreign situation.

Would Have Reds Label Mail

3. Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill), offered a bill to remove mailing privileges from organizations found by the Attorney General to be Communist fronts unless they label their literature and other mail for what it is.

Taft, without expressing his own views on the President's proposal, said the policy group agreed to lay before a conference of the 51 Republican senators tomorrow morning a program which would allot the last week in March to its consideration.

With no bill yet completed, Vandenburg told a news conference after a meeting of Foreign Relations Committee members with the Secretaries of State, War and the Navy that he is insisting that "every bit of information" about the proposed intervention in Greece and Turkey be given to the public through open House and Senate committee meetings.



DENIES CHARGE — Charged with criminally receiving $18,000 worth of stolen gems, Socialite A. Putnam (Put) Humphreys (above), New York diamond merchant, was arrested by police when the jewels were found in his possession. The five-times married Humphreys insisted he was only "holding" for someone else the gems, identified as loot in a series of Park Avenue holdups.

First Inkling Of Red Reaction To Proposal

LONDON, March 13 (AP) — Greek and Turkish spokesmen voiced gratitude today for President Truman's proposal to throw America's economic weight behind those countries. At the same time the official Soviet news agency Tass declared the President's move was, as far as Greece is concerned, frankly "directed against the democratic elements."

Shortly after an official British spokesman said the Truman policy was "very much in accord with Britain's views," the Tass report of the President's message to Congress circulated in Russia, giving the first inkling of Soviet reaction, said:

"Mr. Truman's message was frankly against the democratic elements in Greece, which are defending democratic institutions in that country and which were described in the message as 'a military minority.'"

American Control Seen

At another point Tass said:

"Mr. Truman let Congress understand that assistance offered the Greek government would be followed by establishment of American control over Greece."

Full Russian editorial reaction was expected to accompany or follow publication of the Tass account in tomorrow morning's papers.

Premier Maximos, of Greece, messaged Mr. Truman that his statements to Congress were, for the Greek people, "encouragement in their just and noble struggle for the principles of freedom and democracy."

King George, of Greece, sent a message to Mr. Truman, also, expressing "sincere thanks" and saying:

"I feel sure your generous assistance today in restoring free democratic institutions and expediting economic recovery and restoration of order in Greece will mark a decisive milestone in strengthening world peace."

Greeted in many countries as of historic significance, the message was generally approved by Britain's morning and evening newspapers, although there was a mixed reaction in the influential weekly journals.

The spokesman at the office of EAM, leftist Greek political organization, in London, declared however that Greeks would "continue to resist United States intervention just as they resisted British intervention in the past" and that congressional approval of the Truman proposal would mean "the death warrant of the United Nations."

"American Imperialism"

Leftist organs in Athens said Mr. Truman's message was "undisguised preaching of American imperialism" and aimed at establishing "beachheads in the Mediterranean."

In a statement, Premier Recep Peker, of Turkey, hailed the President's "realistic and fully humanitarian" speech as the end of American isolationism.

The prospect that Greece, too, will get help, he said, "moves Turkey deeply."

Reaction came from Iran, involved recently in a dispute with Russia over Azerbaijan. The Persian newspaper Keyhan described the Truman statement as the "greatest political event since September, 1939."

The Rome independent newspaper Il Messagero went even farther back and said the speech was the most important American pronouncement since promulgation of the Monroe Doctrine in 1823.

Loans To Greece, Turkey Opposed By Henry Wallace

Says Truman's Plan Brings War Nearer

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP) — Henry Wallace said tonight President Truman's proposed loans to Greece and Turkey "will bring the world nearer to war."

Insisting in a radio address that "it is not a Greek crisis that we face, it is an American crisis," the former vice-president and Cabinet officer asserted:

"As one American citizen I say: No loan to undemocratic and wellfed Turkey. No loan to Greece until a representative Greek government is formed and can assure America that our funds will be used for the welfare of the Greek people."

Undemocratic Regimes

Wallace said he believed the program outlined yesterday by the President would worsen seriously American relations with the Soviet Union, and he declared both the present Greek and Turkish governments were undemocratic.

"How can we wage a war of nerves against Russia and expect her to take in good faith our proposals to the United Nations on atomic energy?" he asked.

"When President Truman proclaims the world-wide conflict between East and West, he is telling the Soviet leaders that we are preparing for eventual war.

Wallace, who was ousted as Secretary of Commerce by Mr. Truman last September after he had differed with Secretary of State James Byrnes over American policy vis-a-vis Russia, declared: "To authorize the loans proposed by President Truman will bring the world nearer to war."

Poverty Is Russian Ally

"Russia may be poor and unprepared for war but she knows very well how to reply to Truman's declaration of economic and financial pressure. All over the world Russia and her ally, poverty, will increase the pressure against us.

"Who among us is ready to predict that in this struggle American dollars will outlast the grievances that lead to Communism? I certainly don't want to see Communism spread. I predict that Truman's policy will spread Communism in

12 Of Broken Tanker's Crew Are Missing

HONOLULU, March 13 (AP) — Twelve crewmen from the tanker Fort Dearborn, which split in half during a raging Pacific storm, were missing today and one half of the stricken ship with eight others aboard was sinking in heavy seas.

As three rescue ships struggled with mountainous waves to bring off the rest of the 42-man crew, the Hawaiian Sea Frontier reported a second ship in distress in the same general area 1,100 miles northwest of Honolulu.

The locomotive freighter Robert S. Broussard, 270 miles northwest of the Fort Dearborn, sent an urgent radio for a "standby vessel immediately" saying it had boiler trouble and "heavy strain and pressure on vessel, which won't hold out unless sea moderates."

Insurance Bill Advances

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — By voice vote, the House passed and sent to the Senate today a measure allowing World War One veterans to renew for a fifth five-year period their government insurance policies.

Youth Convicted Of Murder In First Degree For Foster Father's Slaying

ROCKVILLE, Md., March 13, (AP) — A Montgomery County Circuit Court jury today convicted Robert Snyder, 14, of murder in the first degree for the shotgun slaying of his foster father, Ross Snyder.

The jury submitted a recommendation for mercy which under Maryland law leaves the youth subject to sentence to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

The judges announced they would pass sentence Saturday. Defense counsel told reporters they would make no immediate decision regarding an appeal.

The state had requested a conviction of murder in the first degree, and defense counsel, in closing arguments, said it would be satisfied with a verdict of murder in the second degree calling for from two to 18 years imprisonment.

Ross H. Snyder was killed by a blast from a shotgun at his home in Darnestown, Md., November 23. His wife, Mrs. Jane Russell Snyder and adopted daughter, Jane, also were killed.

The Snyder boy testified yesterday that he fired the shotgun into the kitchen at his home while in "sort of a daze" after a quarrel with his foster father.

Defense counsel contended he was goaded into the shootings and called witnesses to tell of his family life. They included James R. Miller, a neighbor, who said Snyder, when alone, "was laughing and free in his movement" but when with his father was "very quiet."

Another witness, Dr. Margaret J. Rioch, clinical psychologist, testified for the defense that Snyder suffered from "a latent Schizophrenia which might erupt at any time or have been erupted at anytime."

Louisiana Tornado Claims Two Lives

ABBEVILLE, La., March 13, (AP) —Two persons were killed and about 50 homes were damaged by a tornado that struck Abbeville Wednesday night during a series of thunderstorms that flooded many South Louisiana communities.

The dead were Zeline LeBlanc, 2, and Miss Susie Yates, a 78-year-old deaf mute, each killed in the destruction of their homes.

One other death was attributed indirectly to the storm, that of Joseph T. Gaspard, who was found dead in his residence at nearby Kaplan from a heart attack after the storm.

The LeBlanc infant, child of Mr. and Mrs. Elma LeBlanc, Abbeville, was found pinned under the kitchen stove and drowned after their home had been blown across the street. The child's body was in four feet of water left by a nine-inch rain that accompanied the disturbance.

The tornado struck the south and west sections of Abbeville, a rice belt city of about 10,000 population near the mid-Louisiana coast. It missed the business section.

Justice Department To Probe McNear Killing

WASHINGTON, March 13, (AP)— The Department of Justice announced late today that it will investigate the slaying of George P. McNear, railroad president.

McNear, head of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, was ambushed and killed by a shotgun blast on Monday night not far from his home at Peoria, Ill.

A Justice Department spokesman said it would investigate the slaying because McNear had been a witness before a House committee and that such witnesses are entitled to federal protection.

Lane Measure Boosts State Income Taxes

Bill Calls For 2.5 Per Cent 1948 Levy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 13 (AP)— Gov. Lane laid the last plank in his tax program today by virtually asking for a $6,500,000 annual increase in Maryland's personal income and corporation taxes.

Through Speaker Sybert, the Governor sent into the House a measure which will make personal net income in 1948 taxable at 2.5 per cent and the income of corporations at a flat 4 per cent.

The measure, estimated to raise an additional $6,530,000 a year, came in on the heels of a long committee hearing on the Governor's other major tax plan, the two per cent sales levy to produce $18,000,000 annually.

The Governor, in his tax message last month, told of the need for additional revenues to the extent of $25,000,000 a year if the state is to continue its school system and meet other pressing obligations.

Although opposition to the sales levy was loud and long before House and Senate committees today, the support was just as outspoken. Committee members looked for a quick favorable report on the measure.

Stormy Weather Ahead

Similar action was expected on the income tax after it receives committe approval. Despite stormy weather head, the opinion among administration leaders was that Lane's fiscal program would go through the Legislature virtually unscathed.

The income tax bill provides that in 1947 the personal income rate would remain at the present 2 per cent and corporation taxs at 1.5 per cent. The jump will come on January 1, 1948.

The existing rate of five per cent on investment income of taxpayers would not be changed under Lane's bill.

Aside from the major tax issues, the Legislature involved itself in some political activity on both sides.

The House, reversing a position of a week ago, roundly defeated a bill which would have allowed nonpartisan election of county commissioners in Montgomery County.

The Senate, although engaging in some debate on the matter, did just the opposite on a Montgomery bill. It passed one to supplant the present $4,800-a-year democratic Civil Service Commissioner with a three-man board, each member to get $600 a year.

One of the major undercover issues of the current session came up on the Senate floor in a bill which would tax the net income of farm co-operatives. Opponents finally hammered it back into the Finance Committee after battling for an hour.

Carter Loses Battle

The bill would tax the net income of the co-operatives after they have made cash patronage refunds to their members.

Sen. Carter (D-Balto 3rd) led a vigorous fight to keep the measure on the floor, urging co-operatives to "come join the rest of we taxpayers" in a spirit of fairness.

Five Persons Arrested In Attempted Robbery

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 14 (Friday) (AP)—Five persons, including two police officers, were arrested and charged with "acceptance of bribery" early today in the attempted robbery of a Howard Johnson restaurant Sunday in which three men were shot dead by police in a gun battle.

The Bureau of Fire and Police, govering body of those two departments, announced the arrests.

Chairman Edward L. Casey, of the board, who handed newsmen copies of a formal statement, identified the arrested persons as follows:

Patrolmen George B. Harris and Gordon L. Conway, and Frank Martinelle, Henry Cipriano and Joseph V. Aiello, all of Providence.

A-Bomb Principle Simple, French Atom Expert Says

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)— Frederick Joliot-Curie, French High Commissioner of Atomic Energy, declared tonight in an article that the principle of the atomic bomb is simple but that France is directing extensive atomic research toward "new means of enriching life."

Joliot-Curie, writing in the magazine United Nations World, which is designed to cover United Nations affairs, speculated on the make-up of the bomb and attacked what he called the United States "iron curtain" on atomic affairs.

He gave a rough outline of his idea of the trigger mechanism of the bomb and advanced the theory that the atomic explosion might result from shooting a chunk of uranium down a tube at a similar piece of uranium.

A digest of his article issued by the United Nations World said that "France today has the know-how to build atomic bombs, according to Dr. Frederick Joliot-Curie." However, a careful examination of the text of the article does not disclose that specific quotation.

Joliot-Curie also is quoted in the digest as saying France's decision to turn her atomic research toward peace is "not based on any lack of knowledge about the atom bomb." The text also fails to disclose that particular reference, although Joliot-Curie made it clear that France was a leader in the early stages of experiments on atomic fission.

Citing the casualties in the atomic bomb blast at Hiroshima, Joliot-Curies said "the menace of sudden death, the terrifying possibilities of having to burrow like ants beneath the soil and build cities in the caves of the earth, at present overshadow in the popular mind the benign potentialities of our new knowledge. Nor is the sense of danger relieved by the decision of the United States that it must hide its technical and scientific advances in nuclear physics behind an American 'iron curtain.'"

Joliot-Curie said in the article that in 1939 French scientists had calculated in Paris the "critical mass" which is to say the 'smallest amount' of the target material in which a chain reaction could be touched off.

SLAIN GIRL — The body of nine-year-old Esther Lewis (above), of Sanger, Calif., was found in the brush near her home, the victim of a mutilation slaying. Police said a sex maniac abducted the child on her way to school.

Committee Would Hold Up Removal Of Draft Records

Unsettled World Conditions Cited

WASHINGTON, March 13. (AP)— Unsettled world conditions today caused the Senate Armed Services Committee to slow down action on President Truman's proposal that the local draft boards turn in their records on the nation's manpower.

Instead, Chairman Gurney (R-SD) said his committee decided to keep draft records at a local or county level for the next "three or four months" before consolidating them in state capitals as the president on March 10 recommended be done at the end of this month.

Secretary of War Patterson met with the committee in the closed session at which the decision was made.

"The Secretary will not object to our plan," Gurney told reporters although he said there had been no discussion of the Mediterranean situation.

The committee recommendation will not alter plans for allowing the wartime Selective Service Act to expire March 31. It applies only to the records kept in local draft offices.

Gurney estimated that retention of 5,000 of the present 7,200 paid employes of Selective Service for the additional period would cost an additional $2,000,000.

But he said this added cost might be offset if it is necessary to re-establish the local boards because they have some $5,000,000 worth of desks and other office equipment. This is to be turned over to National guards or organized reserves when the boards are finally closed.

"We decided to keep county draft offices open in case the world situation gets more critical and we have to open them up again," Gurney told reporters.

Other factors, he said, were possible need of local boards if Congress approves some system of universal military training, and aid to those states that have approved or are considering state bonus payments to veterans.

Guilty Of Murder

VALE, Ore., March 13 (AP)—A Circuit Court jury tonight found Mrs. Gladys Broadhurst, 40, guilty of first-degree murder in the shooting of her husband by another man, but recommended a life imprisonment sentence. The comely 40-year-old woman had been accused of plotting the death of W. D. Broadhurst, 51, with a young cowboy, Alvin Lee Williams. Williams confessed the shotgun slaying on the witness stand.

Union Committee Asks Texas Phone Workers To Return

ST. LOUIS, MARCH 13. (AP) —A spokesman for the Southwestern Telephone Workers union announced tonight the Union's executive committee had recommended that all workers involved in a dispute that caused a partial shutdown of telephone service in Texas return to their jobs.

"It is expected that telephone service in Texas will be restored to normal within the next few hours," said John Crull, special representative of the union. He issued his statement at 10:10 p. m. (CST).

The development came after Gov. Beauford Jester, of Texas, agreed to appoint a commission to investigate a dispute that kept thousands of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company workers in Texas from their posts and disrupted long-distance and manually-operated service in the state.

Palestine Blasts Derail Two Trains

JERUSALEM, March 13 (AP)—Two trains were derailed by explosions north and south of Jerusalem tonight and, in the outskirts of military-cordoned Tel Aviv, two jeeps assigned to the British Public Relations Office were blown from the highway by roadmines.

Official reports said one railroad crewman was killed and a British officer injured when a freight was derailed seven miles south of Jerusalem. There were unconfirmed reports that a second crewman had died from injuries received in the wreck.

An oil train was derailed and was under small arms fire on the main Jerusalem-Haifa railway line near Petahtikvah, about 53 miles north of Jerusalem and outside the martial law area.

No report of casualties or damages was included in the incomplete reports of the oil train explosion issued here, but it was said to have occurred on a hill, causing half the oil train to leave the rails and the other half to plunge down the grade.

The second explosion occurred on the Jerusalem-Jaffa line at Beit Safafa, just south of Jerusalem, and derailed a freight train, injuring one British officer.

Prosecution Completes Case In Jewel Theft

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)— The prosecution completed its case today against Col. Jack W. Durant in the Hesse jewel theft.

The Army court-marshal directed attorneys for the slim, dapper 38-year-old officer to begin the defense on Wednesday, overruling their plea for more time to prepare.

Maj. Joseph Robinson, prosecutor, called the pleas of defense attorneys that they had not had time to examine the record or fully interview witnesses "subterfuge" and an attempt to "postpone the day of judgment."

U. S. Reaction To Plan "Gratifies" Truman

KEY WEST, Fla., March 13 (AP)— President Truman was represented tonight as "gratified" by American reaction to his message to Congress Wednesday calling for a halt to the world march of Communism.

His press secretary, Charles G. Ross, told reporters that Mr. Truman had received upwards of 40 telegrams here from individuals praising his stand and that he was "naturally gratified" by their reaction, as well as the reception it received from the newspapers.

Ross said the Chief Executive had not talked with either Secretary of State George C. Marshall or Undersecretary Dean Acheson since the message to the joint session.

Knutson Will Go Ahead With Plan To Slash Taxes

Treasury Secretary Appeals For Delay

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Snyder appealed to the House Ways and Means Committee today to delay any income tax cut to next year but Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) expressed determination to go ahead.

"If the inflationary pressures are off, I would favor tax reduction next year," Snyder said.

"That's election year," interposed Knutson.

"I'm thinking of the economic conditions of this country," Snyder replied.

Snyder Objects To Flat Cut

"I am in favor of these things at the proper time, but if we act prematurely on tax cuts we could easily contribute to still higher prices and to economic instability, the greatest enemy of business incentives and full-scale production."

Snyder also objected to the plan for a flat 20 per cent cut for everyone. He put into the record a table intended to show that under Knutson's "across the board" bill a man with a wife and two children earning $2,500 would get a tax cut of $19 while a man with a $100,000 income would have his tax cut $12,460.

"The bill would give too little reduction to lower incomes," Snyder said.

Tempers flared as the committee opened consideration of Knutson's bill. Democrats charged Republicans with "steamroller" tactics.

Democrats Behind Truman

Committee Democrats apparently aligned themselves solidly behind President Truman in opposition to tax cutting until Congress gets a clearer idea of the income of the government and what it must spend. Republicans outnumber Democrats on the committee 15 to 10.

The committee session opened with Democrats protesting a Republican decision to limit hearings to two days. They contended this would deny the people their right to be heard.

Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) charged that committee decisions are being made "in an uptown hotel by Republican members." Rep. Lynch (D-NY) added that the Democrats must read the newspapers to find out what is going on. Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn) declared that "never before have decisions of this committee been made at meetings of the members of one party."

"Structural Failure"

INDIANAPOLIS, March 13 (AP)—A special committee appointed by Gov. Ralph F. Gates to investigate the bleacher collapse in the Purdue University field house February 24 that killed three students reported today "structural failure" was the cause, but blamed no one.

Russian Notes Ask Ministers For Discussion

U. S. Acceptance Seen If China Participates

MOSCOW, Friday, March 14 (AP)— Russia sent notes to the American and British Foreign Secretaries last night asking for a discussion of the Chinese situation, and authoritative sources said early today that the United States would engage in such informal discussions if the Chinese government likewise participates.

It was believed that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin also would agree to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's note. Official word from the British was lacking, however.

According to informants, United States Secretary of State George C. Marshall had not yet formally replied to Molotov's note up to an early hour today.

The somewhat vague wording of the Russian note left in some doubt exactly when the meeting would be held, and it was not clear whether the Chinese government had yet been invited.

The Chinese Embassy said that no invitation had been received by China. For these reasons there was a strong probability that some sort of interim note would be returned by the United States asking Molotov to make his proposal more explicit.

Molotov Rebuffed On Issue

There was no doubt, however, that regardless of how the note was worded Molotov intends the meeting to take place during the present Foreign Ministers' Council in Moscow.

Molotov's insistence on the controversial China question after he was rebuffed on the same issue on Monday was interpreted by conference observers as another gun in the Soviet propaganda campaign against the foreign policy of the United States.

The development on the Chinese situation came as Tass, the official Soviet news agency, circulated to the Russian press the first account of President Truman's speech on Greece and Turkey. Mr. Truman's message to Congress, Tass declared, "frankly is directed against democratic elements in Greece."

The opening day of the Foreign Ministers Council found Soviet spokesmen making a sustained attack on many subjects against the United States.

Since Marshall has been a key figure in the making of American policy in China, the latest Molotov move also was aimed at the new Secretary of State, and it was expected that the outspoken Truman address likely would spur the Soviet campaign.

Just before this development Marshall had appeared to have taken his first step to put American foreign policy on the offensive when he faced Molotov with the assertion that he had been disturbed by "frequent reports" that active Nazis in the Soviet zone of Germany were given a clean bill of health if they would join the pro-Russian Social Unity Party.

Progress In U. S. Zone Cited

Assuming the initiative on the question of denazification in Germany, apparently to forestall an expected Soviet attack on that subject, Marshall read a three-page statement citing progress in the American zone and raising the question of the entry of active Nazis in the Soviet-sponsored party.

"My government opposes the use of denazification in favor of any political party," he declared.

Marshall then proposed that a directive be issued to the Allied Control Council to make denazification policies uniform throughout Germany. Molotov, in an agreeable manner characteristic of his attitude throughout the session, said he thought the proposal was acceptable in principle, but wanted time to think it over.

Molotov denied the reports cited by Marshall, saying he knew of no case where a Nazi had been permitted to joint the Socialist Unity Party, which is a coalition of Communists and Social Democrats in the Soviet zone.

In turn, Molotov suggested that the council direct control authorities in Berlin to grant democratic parties and free trade unions the right to organize on a national

Curbs On "Speculative Excesses" In Commodities Asked By Anderson

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP) — Sceretary of Agriculture Anderson called tonight for "Further corrective measures" to curb "speculative excesses" in the nation's commodity markets.

This reference to commodity speculation, made in a formal statement, was Anderson's second in two days.

In a radio interview last night, he said he believed speculation is "talking loudly" in the grain market, which has been marked by sharp price increases in recent weeks.

The Secretary, in tonight's statement said that an investigation of the spectacular cotton market collapse last October showed that need for additional controls.

Anderson made no specific proposals, however, beyond one now pending before the Commodity Exchange Commission to reduce speculative holdings of cotton futures.

His statement was issued in conjunction with a report of the department's Commodity Exchange Authority on its investigation of the cotton market break.

The report said there was on evidence of "manipulative efforts" to break cotton prices. The agency attributed the eight cents a pound October price tumble largely to forced liquidation of many "thinly-margined speculative accounts and the collapse of two large accounts" in the cotton futures markets.

The government has authority to set limits on speculative holdings of Commodity futures, but no authority to control margin buying of futures.

Sales Tax Issue Juggled Between Opposing Orators

Committee Approval Of Levy Is Predicted

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 13. (AP)—One of the hottest issues of the 1947 Legislature—Gov. Lane's two per cent sales tax to raise $18,000,000 annually—was juggled between opposing orators for two stormy hours today.

Several members of Senate and House Finance Committees who heard the arguments at a joint hearing were privately of the opinion the sales levy would reach the floor soon with committee approval.

The full weight of the administration is behind the new tax bill as the only feasible method of raising extra money needed for schools and other state purposes.

School Officials Endorse Plan

Around 500 persons crowded the House chamber to hear school officials declare the sales tax must pass if the new Maryland educational program is to be carried out.

Gerald S. Wise, of the Baltimore Retail Merchants' Association and a leader of the forces against the bill, disclaimed any opposition to the various education measures, and broke in favor of giving the schools what they needed.

However, he objected to tying the school program and sales tax together, saying:

"The education outlay in the proposed budget stands fourth from the top among the items on the list, but fourth from the bottom when you consider the per cent of actual increase over items in the present budget."

As for the sales levy, Wise said "it is a thoroughly bad tax. It hits those least able to afford it."

Merchants' Position

"We merchants want our position to be understood clearly, we are asking to be taxed ourselves rather than hide behind a tax that would be passed on to the other fellow."

School superintendents from several counties told the committees that the bond issues approved for building new schools in their areas would be useless "unless we get teachers to staff them."

They intimated unless the sales tax measure is passed, they would not have sufficient funds to pay salaries high enough to make teachers stay on the job.

Representatives of the American Legion, Parent-Teacher groups, the State Grange, the Associated Women of the Farm Bureau Federation and civic associations, arose to place their organizations on record as favoring a sales tax because of the need for additional school money.

English Girl And Miner May Be Wed Sunday

WELCH, W. Va., March 13. (AP)—Eileen Edwards said today she probably would marry her coal miner fiance, Theodore Crabtree, on Sunday, but the 17-year-old English blonde had nothing further to add to where or at what hour the long-delayed ceremony would take place.

A Welch Daily News reporter quoted Eileen as saying final arrangements for the wedding had not been made.

Eileen and Crabtree, 19-year-old ex-sailor, are due to receive their marriage license Saturday after six weeks of limelight and legal difficulties which began when she decided to marry Crabtree instead of Arnold Buesing, of Waterloo, Neb., the ex-soldier who became engaged to her in London and paid her passage to this country.

Rent Control Measure Offered In Md. House

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 13 (AP)—A Maryland state rent control proposal, which has been resting in the Senate in a more or less moribund state, was offered in the House of Delegates today.

Delegate Carrick (D-Balto 6th) was the author of the new measure to set up a state rent control authority if federal controls are abolished by Congress. The measure was referred to the Banking, Insurance and Social Security Committee.

Sen. Ellison (R-Balto 4th) sponsored a similar measure in the Senate and a week ago saved it from defeat during a two-hour debate. The bill went back to committee, and no more has been heard of it.

Lane Measure

Sen. Balch (D-Talbot), was successful, however, in his plea that the measure should go back, an action which Majority Leader Sothoron (D-Prince George's), said meant its probable death.

The administration's income tax bill, under estimates of the comptroller's office, would amount to $10,855,000 on collections in 1949. Collections this year at two per cent are estimated at $8,682,000.

Corporation taxes after next year would yield $4,357,000, as compared to $2,614,000 at the current 1.5 per cent rate.

Investment income revenue would remain the same at $2,894,000 annually.

In between debates on various issues, both houses waded through a long list of bills and cleared their slates early, in advance of the annual legislative ball held tonight in honor of Gov. Lane.

The Senate, among others, passed and sent to the Governor an act making a prescription necessary for the purchase of barbiturates (sleeping tablets).

Women's Short Course

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 13 (AP)—The 21st annual rural women's short course will be held June 16-21 for an expected 1,000 Maryland farm wives, Venia M. Kellar, assistant extension director, said today.

Indictments Against Union Leaders Who Denied Being Communists Asked

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Demands for perjury indictments against two union officials and for the unmasking of a mysterious "Comrade Juniper" today enlivened a House Labor Committee inquiry into Communism in unions.

The committee held a closed session to consider the demands. Rep. Landis (R-Ind), acting chairman in the absence of Rep. Hartley (R-NJ), announced afterwards that nothing can be said until Hartley can be consulted but that an announcement of the committee's plans many be made tomorrow.

Rep. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), 29-year-old son of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Britain, asked the committee to recommend perjury indictments against Robert Buse, president of Local 248 of the CIO United Auto Workers at Milwaukee, and Harold Christoffel, honorary president of the local. Several colleagues seconded the motion but Acting Chairman Landis (R-Ind) ruled it "out of order at this time."

The perjury indictments would be based, Kennedy explained, on previous testimony by Buse and Christoffel denying they ever were Communists.

Kennedy acted after Louis Budenz, once high in the Communist Party but now an anti-Communist, testified that both Buse and Christoffel had been Communists.

Budenz, once managing editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper in New York, also testified that Communists "control certain locals, specifically the New York local," of the CIO American Newspaper Guild. He added, however, that they do not control the union nationally.

The identity of "Comrade Juniper," reputedly an important union leader, was sought by Rep. Kersten (R-Wis).

"That is a party name, not his actual name," Budenz replied in the public hearing. "I ask special permission to divulge his real name to the committee in executive session. After that, if the committee wants me to identify him publicly, I will do so."

The private session then was held. Committee members declined to comment afterwards.

Molotov proposed also that German elections be run on a system of proportional representation. This met with objections from Bevin, who said the "list system" had been one of the greatest factors toward the rise of Hitler.

First Division's Leader In World War One Passes

Heart Attack Fatal To Maj. Gen. Parker

CHICAGO, March 13, (AP) — Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, who commanded the famous First Division in the First World War and later served as head of the former Sixth Corps Area, died tonight.

Gen. Parker, 74, was retired from the Army at the age of 64 and for a year after that served as an executive of a Chicago department store. He resigned from this position and retired from public life in 1937.

Ferre Watkins, Chicago attorney and friend of the family, said that Gen. Parker was stricken with a heart attack at the Union League Club, where he resided, about 4:30 p. m. and died just as an Army ambulance brought him to Wesley Memorial Hospital about 5:30 p. m.

Consultant For Legion

Although retired from active life Parker was acting as consultant on national defense for the American Legion at the time of his death. The General and his wife represented the American Legion at the inauguration of President Manuel Roxas, of the Philippine Islands.

Survivors are the widow, two daughters, Miss Katherine L. Parker, New York, and Mrs. John P. Honeycutt, West Point, N. Y., and a brother, Maj. Ralph M. Parker, Miami, Fla.

More than 23 years of Parker's Army service—a career that began before the Spanish-American War—was spent in foreign lands. He was decorated many times.

A native of Georgetown, S. C., he served as a second lieutenant during the Spanish-American War after graduation from West Point in 1894.

Saw Duty At Several Schools

After the World War I Parker saw duty at several schools, commanded Madison Barracks, N. Y., and in 1929 was given command of the former Sixth Corps Area with headquarters in Chicago. From 1933 to 1935 he commanded the Department of the Philippines. After that he commanded his wartime outfit, the First Division, for one year, before being transferred to command of the Eighth Corps Area with headquarters at San Antonio, Tex., for a short time before retirement.

U. S. Plans To Arm And Train 100,000 Greek Soldiers

Truman Plan Would Also Bolster Turks

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 13. (AP)—President Truman's program to hold the line on Communism in the Eastern Mediterranean, as outlined by American experts today, would provide American military training and equipment for 100,000 Greek soldiers to combat roving leftist bands officially estimated at more than 9,000 in the mountains of Northern Greece.

The plan would also bolster a much more able Turkish military establishment to a point where, in the event Turkey's position on the Dardanelles should become fatefully jeopardized, the country would not fall overnight, these informants said.

Economic Boosters

Furthermore, economic boosters would be applied to both Greece and Turkey under close American supervision of expenditures on a scale which would amount to substantial aid to Greece for an indefinite time and a graduated diminishing program of help for Turkey.

These bold outlines for procedure were given by American officials at a conference called to provide newsmen with the background of the long step taken by Mr. Truman yesterday.

The special conference was called in the midst of growing concern in United Nations circles over the President's decision to by-pass the United Nations on the ground that it was inadequate to meet the urgent problems posed by infiltrations in Greece, continuing pressure on Turkey and economic rehabilitation in both.

Austin Issues Statement

Former Sen. Warren R. Austin, the chief American delegate to the United Nations, issued a statement approved by the State Department which said:

"The United States is dedicated to the principles of the United Nations Charter and to the building up of collective security. Support of the freedom and independence of Greece and Turkey is essential to these purposes. Prompt approval by the Congress of the President's proposals would be new and effective action by the United States in supporting with all our strength our policy in the United Nations."

Judge Asked To Review Order In W. Va. Mine Case

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The Justice Department asked a West Virginita federal district judge to reconsider an order it had directed against Secretary of the Interior Krug as Coal Mine Administrator in the light of the Supreme Court decision in the John L. Lewis case.

The district court action, the department said, was in conflict with what the Supreme Court had to say about the government's authority over the seized soft coal mines.

District Judge William E. Baker, sitting at Wheeling, W. Va., ordered Krug to re-install Ralph A. Fox, of Morgantown, as operating manager of the mine owned by Fox in Monongalia County.

Fox was ousted as federal manager after the Coial Mines Administrator alleged he had refused to comply with federal orders to pay the five cents per ton fee into the United Mine Workers health and welfare fund, as provided in the government's contract with the union.

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—The War Assets Administration announced today it would move its Zone 1 headquarters, covering the 13 northeastern seaboard states, from Philadelphia to New York by April 1.

Opinions On Proposed Liquor Store Crystalizing

Opinions on the proposed legislative bill calling for the setting up of a county-operated wholesale liquor store are beginning to crystalize. Until Wednesday when the opposition expressed its views at a hearing before the Maryland House ways and means committee, those in favor of the measure appeared to be in the majority, and probably still are today. The opposition has been confined, mostly, to those engaged in the wholesale liquor business, while those supporting the bill are taxpayers who see a possibility of having their tax burden lessened by such an undertaking.

The bill offered by Delegate Whitworth, chairman of the Allegany County delegation, would exclude all except the county government from engaging in selling wholesale liquor to retailers. And by that a monopoly would be created—a point on which many hesitate to take a stand, because, it is argued, it smacks of free enterprise interference. This is met, of course, by the contention that the liquor business cannot be classified as free enterprise, inasmuch the number of licenses have, heretofore, been limited, and probably will continue to be when a bill is enacted to replace the one declared unconstitutional by the Maryland Court of Appeals. They point out that it falls short of being considered free enterprise because many who might desire to enter such business are denied the right because of that limitation.

The establishment of a wholesale liquor store would result in closing one such establishment in the county which probably prompted Mr. Whitworth to state that the argument of free enterprise as it pertains to this phase of the business "is more theoretical than real." It is believed to be an accepted fact that the county could not support more than one wholesale liquor store. So, those favoring the Whitworth bill do so because only one such establishment would be affected.

A representative of the Maryland Institute of Wines and Spirits Distributors has attacked the measure as being "socialistic," and argues "It follows the totalitarian plan of taking business from individuals and turning it over to the government," adding, "the government's business is to license and tax, and not to confiscate."

This line of thinking is met with the statement that state or county-controlled liquor stores are to be found in many of the commonwealths of the country, and wherever they do exist the people of those states or communities have benefitted in lower taxes for the services rendered them by that state or county government. So there is nothing new in the plan sought for Allegany County.

A prominent official of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Benjamin W. O'Rourke, speaking as a private citizen, urged the passage of the bill because he said he was interested in the reduction of real estate taxes. Others who are backing the measure are Delegate See, members of the Allegany Board of County Commissioners, and Paul M. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County. He told the House committee, "that it is his opinion the majority of the citizens of Allegany County want to see the bill passed."

It is difficult to determine exactly what overhead would be necessary in the operation of the proposed wholesale liquor store under county supervision, but, with the exception of the proposed $7,500 salary to be paid the manager, it should not be too great, it is said, while the return to the county government, it is estimated, would be more than $300,000 annually. And that, brother, ain't hay!

No law is ever proposed that does not affect someone's rights or privileges. But most laws are enacted with the hope of better serving mankind. The county-controlled wholesale liquor store measure may not be one of these, but many citizens, unquestionable, will ponder carefully the issue whether the bill should be defeated to the convenience of a few, or enacted to the financial benefit of between 85,000 and 100,000 people in Allegany County.

Housewives Put Brake On High Prices For Pork

Hog prices have been going up. Which normally would mean that the price of pork chops, and bacon, and ham, and spare ribs would be skyrocketing—and they did for a few days in Cumberland, reaching as high as 80 cents a pound for pork chops in some grocery stores. But now the brakes are on.

The thrifty housewife did it. She is refusing to buy pork at high prices. She just shakes her head and turns up her nose. So butchers won't buy from the packers. And the packers, some of them caught in the middle, have quit buying.

A day or so ago hogs were offered in a middlewest stockyards at $29 a hundredweight. No buyers. Or, we should say, no suckers. So prices are going down. Mother broke them. If they don't stay down—they have dropped to 69 cents in some Cumberland markets, and should go lower—there may be no pork for a while. Packers are not dumb. They are in business. If they've got to sell pork at a loss they won't sell it.

So what? So we will just eat chicken patties.

Grain Of Salt

The prospect of going the next fourteen winters without an overcoat hardly would please denizens of the northern latitudes as well as some of those who reside farther south. From the viewpoint of millions of men there is something about an overcoat, but as Robert Miller, 76-year-old resident of Racine, Wis., see it, there is something about going without an overcoat. He has been doing it since 1933 and only occasionally does he wear a hat.

Miller says he obtained the recipe for immunity from cold years ago from Indians in Nebraska who tipped him off that a large pinch of salt, placed to melt in the mouth, would keep him warm. When he recalled the Indians' suggestion in 1933 and decided to put it to a test, "I felt such a glow of warmth," he reminisces, "that I haven't worn an overcoat since."

Of course, his theory of immunity to cold may be taken with at least a grain of salt by those who prefer to wear an overcoat.

If the present broadcasts fail to convert Russia they might try quiz programs, where everybody gets a refrigerator or $64.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DON'T EAT SPOILED FOOD

FOOD poisoning is a vital problem inasmuch as the number of reported cases more than doubled in the five year interval between 1940-'45. Not long ago we discussed cleanliness on the part of restaurant workers as well as the need for periodic examinations in preventing the spread of such diseases as syphilis, tuberculosis, and typhoid. There are other factors that must be considered, however, including the source, preparation, and storage of edibles.

Milk is not the hazard it was in days gone by. Most dairies receive their supplies from tested herds which are healthy and live in sanitary surroundings. It is pasteurized and kept in a cool place. But this all goes for naught if the fluid is not handled properly after being delivered. The consumer should insist that the bottle be opened in his presence and poured immediately into a clean glass. If allowed to stand in an open container long enough to become warm, it makes an excellent medium for bacteria.

Special care must also be taken with desserts that contain dairy products such as cream puffs, custards, and eclairs. Many germs, particularly the staphylococcus, find them just as delectable as we do. The same may be said of meat and fish salads. If held too long in a warm environment, invasion is prone to occur. Prevention demands quick preparation and then refrigeration until ready to be eaten.

Meat presents a double risk. Some varieties contain parasites, overlooked by the inspectors, which can be eliminated only by those cooking. If unrefrigerated, spoilage or deterioration may take place whether cooked or not. The process may be associated with a rapid growth of organisms which produce a deadly toxin, the old fashioned ptomaine poisoning. Cooking at this stage will kill the germs but not their by-products. Hence, when the article is consumed a violent reaction ensues. Salads made from fruits and vegetables are usually served raw; consequently, they must be washed carefully and prepared only by those with clean hands.

No one can remove all the bacteria from foods, nor it is necessary. All that we attempt to do is to keep them down to a minimum. Besides, our mouth and throat usually harbor a colony that will mix with everything we eat. But these are our own, to which we are probably immune. In addition, most of the microbes are killed in the stomach by the caustic action of the acid.

Rice believes that this natural protective device has receivced too little attention; that we must make every effort to maintain as high an acidity as possible. By eating under ideal circumstances, with the mind at ease, more juices are secreted. On the other hand, criticism, nagging, and anger inhibit the flow. A leisurely attitude and chewing the food well will encourage the acid to penetrate each particle quickly and in greater concentration.

Bacteria are amenable to the wonder drugs, but we have no means of contemplating the toxins in spoiled food. When enough is ingested, symptoms develop after a variable length of time. For this reason, the nutriment consumed at the last meal should not always be blamed. Health authorities are aware of this possibility and, when the condition is reported, are also likely to study previous menus.

YEAST

J. W. writes: My dad is a baker and I eat yeast daily because I like it. Does it have any food value?

REPLY

Yes, principally vitamin B. A 1½ inch square of baker's yeast contains 14 calories.

PHOBIA

C. R. writes: I have developed a fear of eating in high class restaurants. I am calm before I enter but the moment I sit down I become a mass of nerves. What can I do to help myself?

REPLY

Perhaps your pocketbook is afraid. Phobias usually require psychiatric care, if they have reached the stage where the victim is bothered.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Few people who hear a joke on the radio realize how lucky that joke is to be on the air.

Let's take it from the beginning.

At three in the morning a gag writer jumps up from bed and dashes to his typewriter. He has been hit with an idea for a joke. It reads:

"The traffic was so crowded one roadster had its bumpers locked with a sedan for four hours. Finally the sedan turned to the roadster and said: 'Sir, are your intentions honorable?'"

The writer brings the joke to the comedian, who likes it but thinks it a little long, so he changes it to read: "Two roadsters had their bumpers hooked and the convertible wanted to know if they were going steady."

The comedian shows it to his sponsor. He thinks it's funny but he advertises tires, and changes it to: "Two tires were hooked so tight they decided to settle down and have little patches."

This is the way the joke reads when it is finally written into the script, but more trouble is coming. The censor tells the comedian the joke is risque unless the two tires are married. Boston, you know, so once again it's changed. The joke is now "two tires were so close the hubcap suggested they see a preacher."

At last the joke is acceptable to everyone. They are all set to go on the air when the producer runs in and announces the show runs ten seconds too long. They will have to cut one joke.

You guessed which one.

Russia's Main Goal Not War; Wallace Exit Resulted In A Soviet Somersault; United States Should Set Example For Rest Of World

Says DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—This is the second of Drew Pearson's columns on the background problems faced by Secretary of State Marshall in Moscow.)

WASHINGTON, March 13 — It goes without saying that the most important ingredient to a successful conference in Moscow is Russia's desire to get along with the United States.

Regarding this there are varying schools of thought. One school—that of Soviet satellite diplomats whose views were presented in an earlier column—is that there is a cleavage of opinion inside the Kremlin regarding lasting friendship with the United States.

This may well be true. However, the view of this columnist, who has watched Soviet-USA affairs over a period of many years, is that the 14 members of the Politburo, despite some differences of opinion, have never lost sight of their main goal.

That goal is not war. Russia is not prepared for war, doesn't want war, won't be able to fight a war for five to ten years. Furthermore, her leaders don't think war is necessary.

The main Soviet goal is something else. To understand it, let's take a detailed look at Russian policy during the past six months. This may be the best way to understand General Marshall's very difficult problem at Moscow.

Henry Wallace Fired

Last September there appeared to be a change of Soviet policy. It began immediately after Henry Wallace published his letter to Truman urging better relations with Russia, following which he was fired from the Cabinet.

The storm of anti-Russian criticism which broke in the American press during the Wallace incident undoubtedly worried the Kremlin. Also it removed Russia's one friend from the Cabinet. Prior to Wallace's exit, Moscow could expect that U. S. policy toward Russia would be divided. After Wallace's exit, they know it was united. They knew the entire nation was almost 100 per cent behind the Byrnes be-firm-with-Russia policy.

Accordingly, Moscow executed one of its famous somersaults. Stalin gave out a press interview that he saw no reason for anything but peace with the outside world. Foreign Minister Molotov began sounding a softer note at Paris. Later he came to New York on a British passenger vessel, mingled with fellow passengers, was courteous with newsmen, acted almost like a human being.

In New York also vice-commissar Vyshinsky made a show of attending a Catholic mass. At sessions of the Foreign Ministers Council, Soviet policy seemed less belligerent. The Russians even agreed in principle to the all-important U.S.-proposed policy of permitting international inspectators to visit atom and munitions plants on Russian and other foreign soil.

Many American observers were elated. They felt that Russian policy had really changed, that the Kremlin had decided on friendship with the United States, not badgering friction, and that we in turn should forget our alarms and worries.

Soviet Policy Unchanged

This, of course, was exactly what the Kremlin wanted. They wanted the United States lulled into security. They wanted to cut the ground out from under Russian critics and from those who urged a powerful U. S. Army-Navy.

But meanwhile if you examined carefully the facts beneath the surface, there appeared to be no actual change of Russian po

For it was an inescapable fact that while Molotov was being conciliatory in New York, the Moscow press and radio were pouring out a steady stream of anti-American vitriol to the Russian people. It was an inescapable fact also that Russian commanders in Korea were thumbing their noses at a formal agreement to cooperate with the United States in governing Korea, that the Soviet was ignoring previous promises regarding the evacuation of Manchuria, doing its best to stir up trouble in Greece, pressuring Norway to get an Arctic base in Spitzbergen, and working night and day to undercut the United States with its own neighbors in Latin America.

But, most important of all, Soviet Ambassador Gromyko during this period of so-called conciliation was stalling on atomic energy. After muddying up public opinion by paying lip service to the principle of international inspection, he proceeded to back-and-fill, talk and delay, until the American public was too confused to know what to think. All it was sure of was that atomic energy is a very complicated subject.

Finally, Gromyko showed his true colors only two weeks ago by flatly rejecting what everyone thought he had accepted in principle—international inspection of atom and arms plants. Incidentally, he did this just after information was received in this country that Russia had developed a small atomic bomb of her own.

In other words, during the six months since Henry Wallace left the Cabinet, Russia has executed a very clever, very conciliatory right-about-face — on the surface. But beneath the surface her policy has remained exactly the same.

Russians Playing For Time

That policy, in brief, is not war but eventual world revolution. What the Russians are playing for is time. Not only could they not fight a war now even if they wished, but they figure that if they wait long enough, they won't have to fight a war at all. Revolutionary elements in other countries will do the job for them.

That's one reason the Russians favor a centralized Germany. They figure that in the long run their propaganda, their agents, their system of boring from within can take over Germany. Time, confusion and chaos will play into their hands.

Actually, however, time can also play on our side—if we are smarter than the Russians and if we make the USA an example of orderliness in a disordered world.

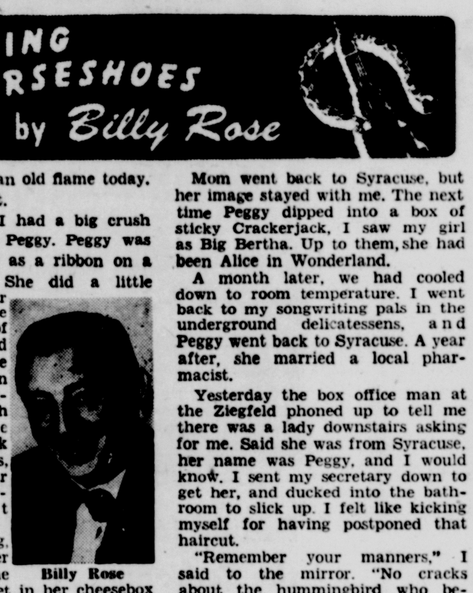
PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose



I met up with an old flame today. I wish I hadn't.

Back in 1924, I had a big crush on a gal named Peggy. Peggy was as trim and gay as a ribbon on a box of candy. She did a little modeling for whoever was the John Powers of that decade, and in her spare time studied up on how to be another Sarah Bernhardt. She never got a break in show business, but she rated star billing in my daydreams that summer.

One evening, she fixed dinner for me on the one-burner gadget in her cheesebox of a flat. When I saw her with her hair mussed, in a green organdie apron with an applique rose, I made up my mind to get a permanent option on her services.

Billy Rose

That weekend, Peggy's mother came in from Syracuse for a visit. I went along with Peg to meet her at the train. I got a bit of a shock when I saw her. She was a dead ringer for Peggy—but she weighed about 250 pounds. Alongside her mother, my girl reminded me of the old cigarette ad, "Coming events cast their shadows before."

I squired them around town that weekend. It was startling how alike they were. They had the same trick of listening with their heads cocked to one side. When I suggested the vaudeville at the Palace, they chirped in unison, "That'll be yummy." When I took them to an ice-cream parlor after the show, they both ordered a double banana split, with whipped cream, nuts and marachino cherry.

Peggy's mother cooked Sunday dinner for us. When I saw this mountain of a woman in the organdie apron with the rose, I got depressed. "That's Peggy ten years from now," I said to myself. I got a quick picture of double chins across the breakfast table, piano legs coming out of taxicabs, a tub of butter waltzing around the dance floor.

Mom went back to Syracuse, but her image stayed with me. The next time Peggy dipped into a box of sticky Crackerjack, I saw my girl as Big Bertha. Up to them, she had been Alice in Wonderland.

A month later, we had cooled down to room temperature. I went back to my songwriting pals in the underground delicatessens, and Peggy went back to Syracuse. A year after, she married a local pharmacist.

Yesterday the box office man at the Ziegfeld phoned up to tell me there was a lady downstairs asking for me. Said she was from Syracuse, her name was Peggy, and I would know. I sent my secretary down to get her, and ducked into the bathroom to slick up. I felt like kicking myself for having postponed that haircut.

"Remember your manners," I said to the mirror. "No cracks about the hummingbird who became a hippopotamus."

And then Peggy walked into the office. I blinked. My company smile broke into a real smile. She was wearing a tailored suit and a silly, wonderful hat that was all net and flowers. Soaking wet my used-to-be wouldn't push the needle on my bathroom Health-o-meter past 105.

"Let me look at you, Peggy," I said. "Walk around a little."

She pirouetted like a model, and said, "How's that for the mother of two and grandmother of one?"

"Only wonderful," I beamed.

We made easy chitchat for a few minutes. She told me she was in town to do some shopping, had passed the theatre, and thought she'd stop in to say hello.

"Do you still have the organdie apron with the rose on it?" I asked her.

She didn't even remember it.

After a bit, she looked at her watch. "Got to dash," she said. "Meeting my son-in-law for cocktails at the St. Regis."

I took her to the door.

She looked at me for a long moment.

"You're the same Billikins," she smiled. "But if I were you, I'd watch my diet. You're beginning to look like my mother."

With that, and a twinkle, she was gone.

Russia Notified To Bring An End To Intervening In Other Nations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 13.—President Truman has, in effect, notified the Russian government that the United States wants the Soviet to stop intervening in various countries of the world by means of "such subterfuges as political infiltration."

This is a warning that, while communism and terrorism and coercion and denial of freedom of the press and of free speech are the prerogatives of the Soviets within their own borders, they must refrain from such tactics in other countries.

This warning was coupled with a plain statement that continuance of Russian tactics may endanger the peace of the world.

The Truman message cannot be read as a simple exposition of the troubles of Greece and Turkey or merely of the needs for American economic and financial aid. The message is a blunt challenge to Russia that she must stop her aggression and pay wholesome and sincere respect to the United Nations Charter.

While a third world war wasn't mentioned and the message contained no threats, its essence was that if Russia wants to upset world peace, the United States is ready for that challenge. It might even be inferred that America prefers to come to a showdown now rather than risk the drifting which might leave Europe at the mercy of the Communists.

Appeasement Is Tabooed

Appeasement is tabooed. Plain speaking has taken its place. The crisis may come as a shock to the American people, but it is much better to have such things come out into the open, where discussion can force all the facts to the surface, than to allow the smouldering fires of Russian-American relations to go on as they have been heretofore.

If a third world war is to be fought, it is better that it be fought now, when American reserves are trained and an enormous amount of equipment can be turned into instantaneous use, rather than to risk a showdown five years from now when the Army, Navy and Air Forces have been demobilized and all equipment has been scrapped.

But it is reasonably sure there will be no war. There will be none now or five years from now if America is resolute now and faces issues squarely.

The only language the Communists respect is force and plenty of it. Their whole gamble has been that, through their left-wing friends in America, they could bring about such dissension and disunity as to weaken the American economic structure.

The communists still hope that dollars and tax reductions will wean away from the President's stand a certain support in Congress and that there will be a coalition of tax reductions and isolationists so that the President will not be backed up. The Communists have a surprise in store for them.

The President and Secretary Marshall will receive the overwhelming support of the Congress because lives are more precious than dollars. A stern and unequivocal course now will prevent war and make sacrifices of lives unnecessary, though it will mean that more dollars from new tax rates will have to be furnished. This can be done if the tax system is revised so as to provide proper incentives for business expansion in the next few years.

Issue Is Human Freedom

The president's message has been called precedent-breaking. The issue is the same as it was in 1914 and in 1917 and in 1939 and in 1941. The issue is human freedom and democracy versus totalitarian dictatorship. The Russian people are as helpless today as the German people became under Hitler. While not concerned with the form of government of any other country, America is concerned with the crusades and aggressive interferences in other countries by any totalitarian state.

The Soviet government has taken over all the Balkans and is about to overrun Greece and Turkey. The United Nations is helpless to act because Russia can block action there. So it remains for the United States to decide either to stand aloof and let Russia dominate the world or to stand athwart Russia's path of aggression and call a halt.

The President and General Marshall have chosen to make a firm stand. Congress is asked to back them up. If that happens, Russia will hesitate and change her ways, for she is too weak to fight a war or to want to provoke the United States into a war.

Within a few weeks, if not days, after Congress backs up the President, the so-called "war scare" will vanish and for the first time since V-J Day the international situation as a whole will take on the pattern of peace.

THESE DAYS

By George E. Sokolsky

THE BRITISH EMPIRE

The British Empire consisted of two generalized categories of nations: 1. Those that had emerged as indepent states, capable of conducting their own affairs, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, and Eire; 2. Difficult and pesterous areas that are often in turmoil, always a drain upon England and the focus of other nation's anxieties and ambitions. The second category includes India, the Malay States, Borneo, the Dutch East Indies (ostensibly part of the Netherlands Empire but actually British economically) the Congo, Egypt, the Sudan, the Near East (in fact, most of the Arab world), Spain, Portugal, and Greece, and spots here and there upon the earth's surface.

It is a curious complex of nations, lacking homogeneity in any respect, including a multitude of races and religions and a variety of cultural and political developments. It was held together not by adoration for the British Crown but by the Pound Sterling. The British trader, engineer and entrepreneur was, for several centuries, unequalled by any other. He opened mines, created great plantations for the growth of raw materials, set up markets and evolved the banking, shipping, insurance, communications and marketing facilities to keep the wares of the world moving in all directions. Whereas the Pax Romana was a product of military force, the Pax Britannica was financial, industrial and commercial.

Three nations in the Twentieth Century combatted Britain's power: the United States, Germany and Japan, and of these the United States was the strongest and most effective. During the Eighteenth and Nineteenth Centuries, England held a virtual monopoly in the formation of capital for the development of the world's resources and the marketing of wares. But in the Twentieth Century the capacity of the United States to form reservoirs of capital became so much greater that even Great Britain became a borrower of American capital. The American dollar replaced the Pound Sterling as the principal currency of international relations. Great Britain fought back with the Sterling Bloc and Empire Preference and the cartelization of products, but British political policy conflicted with British economics.

From the standpoint of Great Britain's economic empire, it would have been wise during the Four-Year War (1914-18) for Great Britain to have been in alliance with Germany and Japan. Such an alliance would have made Germany and Japan industrial areas dependent upon Britain's financial strength. True, in time they would have sought financial independence, but not in as short a time as it took two wars to make Great Britain a dependent of the United States.

This economic policy Britain rejected in favor of a political alliance with France and Russia and the United States. The Russian Revolution, the incompetence of France in a modern world and the overwhelming economic strength of the United States weakened the British Empire. Sentimentally, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa supported the mother country. Sentimentally, the United States has maintained England through two wars and the intervening period to the tune of tens of billions of dollars of direct and indirect aid.

First went Eire; then Egypt with the Suez Canal in danger. Now, India has gone and the British power in China, centering on Hongkong and Shanghai, is lost. Fearful of American public opinion, Great Britain deserted Spain, which means that her position in the Mediterranean is in peril, for that position is wholly dependent upon Gibraltar and a friendly Iberian Peninsula, just as Britain's seapower in the Southern Atlantic is dependent upon a friendly control of the Azores. And the organization of the Arab League by Franklin D. Roosevelt was a fierce blow.

The final blow is Greece. If Greece is withdrawn from the British sphere of influence in favor of the United States or Soviet Russia, it means that Britain's authority in the Eastern and Central Mediterranean is gone. Turkey, Palestine, Iran, Iraq, Egypt, and the Suez Canal — Britain's so-called lifeline to India — will be in other hands, which may be merciful or unmerciful.

Thus, the role of Empire wends its way. Of all Empires, the British served best, harmed least, gave man most. Its passing will be mourned when the full meaning of it is realized.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

The Worth of Things

It would be well for all of us, at the end of each day, to appraise the worth of things brought to our minds, or to make note of the many activities experienced, and appraise their value, as well.

Said Williams James: "Our judgments concerning the worth of things, big or little, depend on the feelings the things arouse in us." Days are very precious things, especially if many of them have already been spent. At least some one thing should mark each day as significant. And that one thing will prove itself significant if it has aroused feeling within you, and some measure at least, of the finer elements in human life.

I have just finished reading a book that I can't keep out of my mind. The characters hover about me. I know them. Perhaps they know me, too. But one character especially stood out. She had feeling. She made others feel her thoughts. She felt for everyone about her. She knew the worth of things, and was distressed that those about her looked upon most things as trivial and of little account.

A simple squirrel, if he teaches us something, is of more value than a race horse that earns its owner a fortune, merely by winning races. Man watched the bird in flight, and said "I can fly too if I but apply the same principles"—and so he now does—flies all over the world, undoubtedly astounding the very birds at his ingenuity and genius.

Success is a feeling. It's there—somewhere—and I am going to discover it. That's what the young man says. The worth of things, of success, drives him on to the accomplishment of many things.

People buy newspapers, magazines, and listen to the radio, because they hunger to satisfy certain feelings that are inherent within them. How grateful they are when that hunger is satisfied. I wonder that more newspaper publishers do not think this over. They would be more widely read if they considered publishing more material that aroused the feelings of their readers—giving them more hope, and less fear.

Wilson, 24 Blackiston Avenue, at 6:30 last night in Bethany United Brethren Evangelical Church, with Rev. C. K. Welch officiating.

Miss Elizabeth Fulbright, North Carolina, was the maid of honor and bride's only attendant. Hubert J. Feeney, city, served as Mr. Wilson's best man and Robert Wilson, brother of the bridegroom, and Charles Junior Hardy were the ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in an aqua blue suit, with which she wore brown accessories and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Her maid of honor wore a cinnamon brown suit, with darker brown and pink accessories. She carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Montgomery chose a gray costume with red rosebuds for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Wilson was attired in black with which she wore a corsage of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Romney High School and Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. She is a head nurse at the hospital. The bridegroom is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and a veteran of World War II, having served in the Navy in both theaters. He is employed as a machinist by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

An informal wedding reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, following the ceremony. The bridal motif was carried out in the tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Miss Ruth Cornwell and Mrs. Gladys Pitzer assisted in serving.

Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. Wilson and his bride will reside in an apartment in Mapleside.

Union Grove Club Has International Relations Program

Members of the Union Grove Homemakers Club heard a talk on "International Relations" by Mrs. Albert Smouse, Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edgar Vandegrift. She stressed the point "that if the United Nations is to succeed, as it must if we are to be spared a third world war, it must take mothers of men into its councils." She urged that this year, every rural home should obtain a knowledge of the homes of people of other countries and special emphasis should be placed on understanding of homemaking and less on the skill of housekeeping.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America," after which members answered the roll call with hints on flowers. They included planting zenias on Posie day, April 3; using left over coffee to water flowers; placing a few drops of caster oil on the soil of ferns; placing moth balls under nystersium plants to eliminate the black bugs that attack them and putting wild flowers in warm water instead of cold to keep them longer.

Announcements made include the fact that the membership chairman, tea and garden chairmen meetings have been postponed; a food demonstration to be given by Miss Margaret McFeeters, College Park; and a meeting April 15 at the Y with members of the Bedford Road Club to practice "Allevetta" and "Maple Leaf Forever," which the groups will sing, dressed in Canadian costume at the Homemakers' pageant, "Hands Around the World," May 5.

Two new members were enrolled. They are Mrs. T. A. Fromeyer and Mrs. Edward Eichner. Plans were made also for members to bring old eye glasses to the next meeting, that they may be sent to women in New York, whose hobby is collecting them and distributing them to people who need them.

Mrs. Ruthella Fey gave the Sunshine report of cards sent out during the month and announced next month would be Blue Cross dues month. After members exchanged plants and cuttings, a program was presented. It included a religious poem, "The Guest," by Mrs. George Yearger; a reading, "Language of Flowers," Mrs. Richard Bready; and a recreational period conducted by Miss Nina Fey and Mrs. Edward Lundine. Prizes were won by Mrs. Jerry Wilkinson, Mrs. Russell O'Neal and Mrs. Edward Eichner.

Other members present were Mrs. John McMackin, Mrs. John Hardinger, Mrs. John Wentling, Mrs. George Windish, Mrs. Harry Zembower, Mrs. Joseph Lydinger, Mrs. Charles Gillum and Mrs. Eula McMacken.

Centre Street WSCS Has Program On India

A talk on "India at the Threshold," by Mrs. Thomas Lohr Richards, featured the program at the monthly meeting of the Centre Street Methodist WSCS, yesterday. Following the talk a forum was held on the topic.

Mrs. Carl Sander offered the invocation and Mrs. Robert Critchfield held the devotionals. Mrs. E. E. Loar's Circle served the luncheon, which with the table decorations combined the St. Patrick's day theme. Yellow cardboard boxes with large green shamrocks centered the tables, and shamrocks were repeated in the salad. The main course of the luncheon was in keeping with the study topic, India. Sixty-five members attended the morning session and 125 the luncheon and afternoon meeting.

McCoole Third Graders Have Baby Doll Show

Baby dolls had their day recently when the third grade pupils of McCoole Elementary School sponsored a baby doll show in their class room. Altogether 63 dolls and stuffed animals were entered in the show.

A Dutch doll, entered by Mary Frances Riggleman, won first prize blue ribbon. Jeanette Corbin's doll was placed second and a large wooden Pinacchio, submitted by Alvin Pearce, was third. A 23 year old infant doll, belonging to his mother, and wearing his sister's baby clothes, was entered by John Purdy. His entry won fourth honors.

A party and movies followed the judging of the dolls.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Gossip, In Form Of Careless Remark, Upsets Very Sensible Woman

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

One of the most important things for anyone to learn is to ignore gossip. Particularly, when it concerns oneself.

There is nothing easier than to tell another person what to do. It is always a simpler matter to give a casual glance at somebody else's problem, see the solution immediately, and give advice that has not been sought by the person concerned.

Often, when some such unsought advice is given, even in the form of a casual remark, it is disturbing to the person to whom it was offered. It makes her question the soundness of what she is doing and wonder if she is doing right. As, for instance, in the case of the woman who has this problem:

"My family was quite poor and I could not go to high school and have a career like so many girls.

"I married at 15. I adopted a son a year after, and two years after that, I had a son of my own. I have a very good husband and my married life has been a happy one.

"Not long ago, I started going to night school. I want a career in business; that is, I want to be a stenographer. I love shorthand very much and my teacher told me I was very good at it. But last night she made a remark that made me unhappy. She said, 'How could you go to work and leave your two poor children alone?' Well, I wouldn't leave them alone. My baby is five and the oldest is six going on seven. My idea is to take this course, which will take me three years, and then have a career to help my husband give us a better home. Mother and Dad will be staying with us before long, and I hope to have a home of my own some day and security for my children. My husband doesn't object to my going to night school two nights a week.

"Do you think it is wrong of me to do this? I keep my house always spic and span and my children never have been neglected for a single moment. When I go to night school, either my mother or my husband stays with the children.

"Should I give up this stenograpic course or not? This is the only thing I have really loved to do besides my housework and other things. Or don't you think I should improve myself in any way I can? I left school while still in the 10th grade."

Now this is a case where foolish gossip, in the form of a careless remark, has upset a very sensible woman and made her wonder if she is doing right.

Of course she is doing right. She is very wise to look ahead and plan as she is doing. And since she has an understanding husband who evidently also wants to plan wisely for the future, and since her children are in no way neglected, there is certainly no reason in the world why she should not continue going to night school and training herself for a regular job later on.

I would be the last person in the world to advocate any woman working outside the home when it meant that her children would suffer in any way. Obviously, this will not be the case with this mother, since her own parents would be home to look after the children.

The moral of this story is, as someone else has put it, "Be sure you are right; then go ahead." If you know that you have made a wise decision, don't let anything anyone else may say upset you. No one but yourself can know your own situation, and no one but yourself is in a position to judge what is the best thing for you to do. So have the courage of your convictions and don't be disturbed by what any uninformed person may say about the course you are pursuing.

A tampan is a tick of southern Africa, remarkable for its very poisonous bite. David Livingston, missionary explorer, described it in his "Travels."

Sir Philip Sidney was so esteemed by his countrymen that when he died of a gunshot wound in his thigh in 1586, his body was taken to London, and after lying in state he was buried with great solemnity in the old cathedral of St. Paul's. The universities of Cambridge and Oxford issued three volumes of elegies on his death and the poet, Edmund Spenser, in his poem, "Astrophel," mourned the loss of his friend.

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

BEULAH

Beulah is a radio character who has wandered restlessly from network and radio program like a lost sheep. Way back in 1939 the late Marlin Hurt originated Beulah, a Negro maid with a perpetually distressed voice, on a comedy program called "Hometown, Unincorporated" on NBC. In 1943 Beulah drifted away from Hometown to become Fred Brady's girl friend in a program called "That's Life" also on NBC.

John Crosby

Beulah's next job was opening the door at Fibber McGee's house, where she attracted considerable national attention, so much, in fact, that she was given her own program as a summer replacement on CBS in 1945. The program was good enough to be continued as a regular Winter show, which came to an end when Hurt died in 1946. There followed a twelve month search for a voice to replace Hurt's which ended when the program's producers signed Bob Corley, of Atlanta, Ga., who says he had a Negro mammy who sounded just like Beulah. Mr. Corley can be heard as Beulah on ABC, 9 p. m. E.S.T. Mondays.

I'm not entirely sure Beulah is worth all this explanation except as a bit of radio folklore showing how a radio character, once well under way, is perpetuated virtually forever. Beulah, as I recall, was pretty funny on the Fibber and Molly show but then she didn't have to carry an entire half hour by herself. Beulah is now the harassed maid of the Jones family, which is composed of young Harry Jones and Aunt Alice Jones, who devote much of their time toward rescuing Beulah from the scrapes her boy friend Bill gets her into.

Bill is shiftless, scheming, grasping and everlastingly hungry and he is always on the verge but never quite marries Beulah, which provokes much of the discussion in the Jones household. I'm afraid Bill also sounds a little too much like de Kingfish in Amos 'n' Andy.

"We gotta assume the canine."

"Assume the canine?"

"Put on de dog."

That's a fair sample of Bill's conversation. Recently Bill bought a piece of land with Beulah's money. The property looked for a moment as if it might contain oil, but you and I knew all along that it wouldn't. This sort of by-play isn't enough to fill half an hour so several other minor characters bob into the Jones household now and then with their problems which are entirely unrelated to the rest of the plot. One of them is a man named Mr. Frank who sounds like Titus Moody and who exists in a state of total confusion. The act never varies much and goes something like this:

"Howdy do." This is Mr. Frank at the front door.

"Howdy do, Mr. Frank."

"What brings you here?"

"You de one dat rang de doorbell."

"Uh . . . I did? You mean I'm on the outside and you're on the inside?"

"That's right."

"I thought this room was rather large. What's that?"

"That's the front hall mirror. That's your reflection in it."

"Oh my! Gotta get that fixed."

There's also another character who stutters ba-hup, ba-hup and whistles, a device you can get tired of in an awful hurry. That about sums up Beulah. There really isn't anything the matter with it except that it isn't very funny and, at times, the writing seems a little aimless.

It's also at times sentimental to an extraordinary degree. Unabashed sentiment seems to be a new trend in comedy programs. You find an awful lot of it in the new movies too. Maybe it's a sign of the times. For all I know we are headed into a postwar era in the popular arts, not at all like that of the last war, but like that after the Napoleonic wars which culminated in Queen Victoria.

Brother Daddy Is Identified

TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — His two new step-children can be excused if they are in doubt what to call Harry Fairsheets. Last year they were his brothers-in-law.

It all started in 1945 when Fairsheets, a Hominy, Okla., veteran who was blinded while serving overseas, divorced his 19-year-old wife, and his mother-in-law divorced her husband, Carl Couffer.

Later, Fairsheets married his former mother-in-law. Now a district court has awarded them custody of two of her younger children by her earlier marriage.

Modern Amazons Have A Bad Fit

RICHMOND (AP) — The Valentine Museum, preparing for a fashion exhibit of "150 years of brides," asked a local department store for models. The store was willing and the girls were game, but: (1)—Their shoulders were too broad; (2)—Their waists were too full, and (3)—Their frames were too tall. Similar difficulties were encountered in borrowing a steel and fabric mannequin from a gentlemen's apparel store for a Confederate uniform. The first two, man size, were too large. A fitting was obtained on a boy's model.

Two Motorists Arrested As Result Of Fire

A fire, started by an overheated flue, caused slight damage to a partition in the home of Thomas Hodel, 414 Virginia Avenue at 11:40 a. m. yesterday and indirectly led to the arrest of two motorists.

South End Fire Company answered the call first and then called Central Fire Company to aid in extinguishing the blaze which swept up the partition behind a coal stove flue.

After reaching the scene of the fire Edgar E. Bucy, South End fireman started across the street to call Central Fire Company, when he was allegedly struck by a car operated by John H. Raupauch, 728 Baker Street, Bucy did not require hospital treatment.

Shortly after, Officer Curtis McA. Kime, who was following Central Company to the fire on his motorcycle said an automobile driven by Paul F. Faupel, this city, nearly struck him.

Both drivers posted $10 bonds on careless driving charges for hearings in Police Court.

The South End Company also extinguished a blaze at 1:04 p. m. in the 800 block of William's Road. They said the heating hose on a car owned by Roy Snyder, Route 2, this city, became ignited. No damage was reported.

The guarani is the monetary unit of Paraguay. Three guarani and 27 centimes equal one dollar.

Forfeits "Gaming" Bond

Charged with maintaining a place for gambling, a man identified as John Smith, 125 North Mechanic Street, forefeited $25 bond in Police Court yesterday morning.

He was arrested at 1:35 a. m. by Lt. James E. Van who said he found cards on the table but no money. Five men were allegedly playing "setback" Lt. Van said. He was assisted in the arrest by Officer G. E. Pfeiffer.

Harry Bridges, the West Coast labor leader, due to enter a hospital to see what can be done about his stomach troubles. . . Upton Close wants redress to the tune of $200,000 from the Coyles Broadcasting Co. and its news staff at WOL, Washington, claiming he has been forced to cancel lecture tours, discontinue his radio broadcasts and find his textbooks withdrawn from schools because of a certain broadcast made March 6. . . Because a helicopter was used to deliver raw materials to a striking factory, the Civil Aeronautics Authority will be asked by labor organizations to "revoke licenses of pilots engaged in strike-breaking." . . . Congress will be asked to devise ways and means by which we can force Britain and Russia to return to us or buy outright the 400-odd ships we lend-leased them to carry war supplies.

Babs Stanwyck

Gerhart Eisler's second wife may be brought here from Stockholm to testify in his behalf. . . Louis Adamic, whose remarks about Winston Churchill in "Dinner at the White House" got him into hot water, will be in the news again when he addresses a Council on American-Soviet Friendship in the Midwest. . . Warner Brothers to make a movie called "Give Us This Day," in which Communism will be denounced. . . Duell, Sloan & Pearce to release this week a book called "The Soviet Spies: A Record of Russian Espionage in North America," by Richard Hirsch, a former colonel in the Military Intelligence Division of the War Department and before that a writer on crime and law enforcement problems.

Barbara Stanwyck wrote friends here that she was so cold in London that she wore her mink coat and mittens even in the bathroom. . . Movie theatres in Oslo, Norway, banned showing of the film "Grapes of Wrath" because American distributors insisted that audiences be told that such conditions are not normal in the United States. . . A French-made movie, "Children of Paradise," has been banned throughout Canada, causing a diplomatic tempest in a teapot. . . At the premiere of "Lost Weekend" in Paris a French audience showed no interest or excitement until the scene showing a row of milk bottles in front of Ray Milland's door. . . The Norwegian press is having much to say about Sonja Henie's inactivity on war relief, by way of greeting her on her return to Europe. . . Lee Sabinson will personally supervise the London production of "Finian's Rainbow," and Michael Kidd will duplicate his dancing routines, which are largely responsible for the show's success here.

Ethel Barrymore said to regard her latest movie, "Katie For Congress," as her best cinema venture yet. . . A local ad agency has a full set of displays ready to play up a certain Hollywood director as winner of the Academy Award, which hasn't yet been handed out (confidentially, Frank Capra is the director, and the movie is "A Wonderful Life.") . . . Vilma Banky, now a Hollywood hausfrau, contemplates returning to the screen in the first independent comedy that Judy Canova will produce and star in. . . Alice Faye, her husband Phil Harris, and Jack Benny will be a triple treat at the Roxy around May 12. . . Guido Salmaggi, the Brooklyn tenor who has been studying in Los Angeles with Mme. Galli-Curci, will do a guest performance of "La Travita" for his dad's operatic organization this Saturday. . . . In case you care, Olsen & Johnson and the beauteous Maggi McNellis will give their views on dunking at the sixth annual convention of the National Dunking Association at the Hotel Sheraton today.

The Cavalcade of America's tribute to Luther Burbank, entitled "The Man With Green Fingers," to be launched on the airways St. Patrick's Day, will be inserted into the Congressional Record by Congressmen Willis Bradley and Norris Poulson of California. . . If you're lookin' for Easter presents for your musical friends, Columbia has made a brand new recording of Handel's "The Messiah," with the Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra, directed by Dr Malcolm Sargent, and the famous Huddersfield Choral Society. Thirty-eight sides were required for this monumental work. You can also obtain Richard Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration," with the Philharmonic Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy's baton. Both of these albums are news-making in the music world. . . William Gargan of the films has personally recorded a series of Morning and Evening Prayers, distributed through Blue Label Records (Hollywood) of which he is president.

THE AVERAGE MAN

The average man likes hearty salads with plenty of fresh greens and not too much dressing. And that's where Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise or Mrs. Filbert's Salad Dressing comes in. For the delicate smoothness of Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise or Mrs. Filbert's Salad Dressing blends in so skillfully that it really brings out the hidden flavors of vegetables and fruits. That's why men never know where the dressing begins and the salad leaves off—the true test of any good mayonnaise or salad dressing.

BROKEN RAINBOW

I drove over the great Golden Gate Bridge yesterday.

It was a day set for drama. There had been one of those black and ruthless storms that sweep in so quickly from the Pacific. But now the lowering sky had broken into glowing mounds of ivory and pearl which cast long purple shadows on the turquoise surf beneath and, this being California, it is spring. And all the folded hills around the bay are green as the rarest jade.

The city, with its tall white towers, was like some enchanted vision dropped from fairyland and apt to disappear at any moment. And over the bloom and sparkle and great splashing miles of color there rose a rainbow.

It was not a usual rainbow. It was deep and dark as some long hidden dream within the heart. Wine colored-shading from deepest midnight blue to scarlet.

And it did not arc as rainbows are supposed to do. Instead it lay in broken segments in all the folds of the emerald hills.

Each hill was gilded with the slanting sunlight of that February day. But in each dark and secret fold there lay—a broken rainbow.

Never in my life have I seen anything like that. And yet all my life I have watched something like that and lived it. All my life I have watched our broken rainbows, yours and mine.

The soaring dreams we held within our heart that never reached the sky. The hunger and the yearning we could not express except in rare sweet moments now and then. The love that lingered such a little while and then was gone. These are our broken rainbows. And yet—

I do not think a rainbow ever can be lost. Somewhere within the folding, everlasting hills we'll find our dreams again, and all the answers to our hopes and despairs. And we'll be glad and laugh as we go out and gather them all up into a perfect whole . . . and we'll forget they once were broken on the hills of life.

SELF-CONCERN

Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan. Matthew 16:22, 23. Read Matthew 16:21-28.

Self-concern is basic and legitimate. But it can make us guilty of hugging trifles to our breasts unaware that doing so may cost us a kingdom. Even Jesus had to discipline his self-concern when Peter rebelled against his crucifixion — "this shall not be unto thee." Unless this suggestion had tempted Jesus, he would not have said to poor troubled Peter, "get thee behind me, Satan."

The discipline of self-concern consists primarily in the insight that we can realize our own highest welfare only in the effort to serve sincerely the best interests of others. Dr. Grenfell said that he disliked to talk of self-sacrifice because, "I cannot recall that I have ever indulged in it." No one of us has.

Now as never before in human history, we must solve the problems of other men and nations, or face a world where we shall be only a part of the ashes. We cannot save our sons without saving China. We shall never know how a defeated Man on a cross conquered a world until we truly enlarge our hearts.

Let Us Pray: God of the Ages, before whose judgment seat men and nations daily stand, we have known thee as Judge in the hell made by our rebellion against thee, when we would not turn to thee as the Father of peoples living in brotherhood. Open our eyes lest we perish! Amen.

The peep show of the 18th century was a box, often small enough to be carried on the itinerant operator's back, in which were placed poorly executed and crudely hand-colored engravings reflected in a mirror and seen through a glass in front of the box. Pictures and titles on them were engraved in reverse so as to come out right in the mirror.

Market Is Jumbled As New Foreign Policy Has Wall Street Guessing

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—The administration's new foreign program had Wall Street guessing today and the result was a well jumbled stock market with dealings the slowest in eight months. Transfers of 650,000 shares compared with 950,000 the day before and were a low for a full stretch since last August 15.

Among favorites, United States Gypsum was up 2⅞ at 100⅜; Santa Fe 2¼ at 88¾, Pullman 1½ at 56⅝, Atlantic Coast Line 1¼ at 52½, du Pont one at 184 and Douglas Aircraft 1¼ at 68. Improved were Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, North American, Sunray Oil (the day's liveliest mover), Dow Chemical Eastman Kodak and J. C. Penney.

Casualties running to around a point or so included Southern Pacific at 40⅝, American Woolen 41, Paramount Pictures 25, Schenley 40½ and International Paper 46. On the downside were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Rubber, Woolworth, International Harvester, Western Union "A", Kennecott, Westinghouse, General Electric, Johns-Manville, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Great Northern Railway and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Ahead in the Curb were Standard Cap, Textron, American Cyanamid and St. Lawrence Corporation. Stumblers were Bell Telephone of Canada, Fansteel, Middle West Corporation and New York and Honduras Rosario. Turnover here was 200,000 shares versus 210,000 yesterday.

A fair assortment of railroad obligations climbed fractions to more than a point in today's bond market, although the improvement failed to become general.

Total sales of $3,072,000 compared with $3,330,000 Wednesday.

Long-term United States government forged ahead in the over-the-counter markets, with the Victory 2½s of December '67-'72 up 3-32 at 103¼ bid, and the 2½s of September '67-'72 ahead ¼ at 106 1-32 bid.

Officials To Fight Report Denying Air Service To City

Although recommendations have been made by the Civil Aeronautic Board examiners that no airplane service be provided for Cumberland, local officials yesterday indicated that they will take all action possible to fight the recommendations.

In a report filed by examiners in the Middle Atlantic Case, it is stated there is not enough potential air traffic to warrant local service on a route between Baltimore-Washington and Pittsburgh.

Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, began immediately to prepare exceptions to the recommendations. They must be filed by March 26 and briefs must follow in 20 days.

Five airlines have asked to be certified by the board to serve Maryland and Pennsylvania cities along the route, but the examiners recommended that all applications be rejected.

Edmund S. Burke, chairman of the Municipal Airport Commission, declared:

"We will take every action possible to see that Cumberland's views are presented to the CAB. We are entitled to good service and will get it."

United Airlines had asked for permission to stop at Hagerstown and Cumberland on a new Washington-Pittsburgh extension. All American, Columbia Airlines, Incorporated; Mutual Aviation, Incorporated, and Norseman Air Transport, Incorporated, applied for routes including a Pittsburgh to Washington run.

Stutzman Lashes Back At Unsigned Circular

C. E. Stutzman, president of the Allegany Trades Council, attributed to "sour grapes" the circulation of a dodger which asserted Mayor Thomas S. Post "swallowed hook, line and sinker, the biggest joke ever put over on any politician" in welcoming the Trade Union Courier to Cumberland.

Stutzman said the publication has the backing of the Council and of AFL unions here, and declared the anonymous writer of the letter probably came from one of the papers which are seeking labor endorsement here.

The unsigned circular referred to Albert A. Birnbaum, local representative of the Courier, saying:

"When the New York paper came out with the above letter and the picture of the mayor in the upper left hand corner, the Laboring people laughed so much that the face of his honor is still red. Here is a big time politician falling for a New York City slicker!"

Birnbaum told a News reporter the paper he represents has been published for 11 years and is endorsed by 2,000 AFL locals on the Eastern seaboard. He was unable to quote circulation figures but said there were "quite a few subscribers in this area".

A dramatization of the methods employed by the Soviet regime to maintain itself in power will be heard tomorrow at 6:15 p. m. over Station WTBO, it was announced yesterday by Edward A. Cosgrove, grand knight of Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus.

The program, fourth in a series of six patriotic dramas entitled "Safeguards for America", is being presented by the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus and sponsored by the local organization.

Cosgrove said tomorrow night's broadcast will deal with the importance of hunger, force and fear as campaign arguments in Soviet Russia and its satellite countries. Exposure of the methods by which the Communist party retains power wherever it has been able to seize it explains the subjection of Russia's millions to the will of a minority and was sharply illustrated in the so-called "free elections" in Poland, he added.

The fifth program in the series will be an exposure of the workings of the Soviet world-wide spy system.

Paper Workers Union Seeks Wage Increase

Negotiations between United Paper Workers of America, CIO, and the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company for a general increase in wages for hourly paid employes of the Luke, Covington, Va., and Williamsburg, Pa., plants were adjourned Wednesday.

The conference ended with the union demanding a 13-cent increase and the company offering an increase of three cents against this demand.

Although the company indicated willingness to continue bargaining the union representatives, headed by Harry E. Scott, international representative, decided to withdraw and report the proceedings to its membership.

J. W. Towsen, representing the company, in the negotiations, pointed out during the meeting with the union that the company gauged its wage levels as equal to or even better than the rates paid by paper companies in the Middle Atlantic States.

The increase is the fourth sought by the union since the end of the war with Japan in August, 1945. Since V-J Day, the company has granted three wage increases totaling 22 cents per hour.

Forestry Department Gets Two Jeep Fire Engines For Western Md.

Two jeeps have been acquired by the District Forestry Department to be equipped with pumps, hose, sirens and other apparatus for use in fighting woods, brush and grass fires, in Western Maryland, according to William A. Parr, district forester.

One jeep will be stationed at Oakland and the other here, when they are fully outfitted. Forest Warden Brooke T. Bodkin has them at his place now, and preliminary tests indicate they will be the answer to the department's need for vehicles which can go 'cross-country. The vehicles will be on 24-hour duty, Parr said.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY BUFFET

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Give a buffet party for St. Patrick's Day. The decorations can be shamrocks cut from green cardboard, scattered over the table—and green carnations with plenty of green leaves for the center-piece.

Here's a menu which will tie in well with the suggested decorations:

MENU
Cream of Pea Soup
Avocado Ham Spaghetti
Shamrock Party Salad
Hot Rolls
Pistachio Ice Cream with Creamy Almond Slices

FOR THE WEARIN' O' THE GREEN . . . . Shamrock Salad

Avocado Ham Spaghetti

2 cups avocado cubes
1 large slice smoked ham
¾ cup finely chopped green sweet pepper
2 tablespoons flour
1⅔ cups milk
8 ounces spaghetti, cooked
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Paprika

Cut avocado into halves lengthwise and remove seed and skin. Cut fruit into cubes and springle with salt. Cut ham into cubes and fry until well cooked and brown. Add pepper and cook about one minute. Add flour and stir to blend. Add milk and cook and stir until mixture is thick. Add Worcestershire sauce, salt to taste and spaghetti and heat to boiling point. Pour into serving dish and sprinkle with paprika. Arrange avocado cube over spaghetti.

Shamrock Party Salad

3 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
¾ cup cold water
1½ cups pineapple juice
⅔ cup lemon juice
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
Green food coloring
2 cups creamy cottage cheese
4 slices canned pineapple, diced
1 medium cucumber, peeled and diced
½ cup celery, diced
Greens

Soak gelatin in cold water. Mix fruit juices with sugar and salt and heat to boiling point. Add to soaked gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add a few drops of green coloring. Chill until sirupy. Add one cup of the gelatin mixture to the cottage cheese and diced pineapple. Add cucumber and celery to remaining gelatin and pour into a deep 8-in. round cake pan. When gelatin is firm, spread cottage cheese mixture over top and chill. Spread on mayonnaise in shamrock pattern.

Creamy Almond Slices

1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 cup white sugar
¾ cup water
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup chopped unblanched almonds

Rinse raisins, drain and dry on a towel to remove all moisture. Combine sugars, water and cream of tartar in a saucepan and boil to 240° or until mixture will form a medium hard ball when tested in cold water. Turn out on wet platter and cool. Add flavoring and stir until creamy. Knead in raisins and nuts. Roll, slice.

Army Uniforms Cheap In Sicily

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

PALERMO, Sicily—There is a street market here where you can buy only American and British army equipment.

Every third Palermitan wears at least one item of Allied uniform as part of his regular clothing, according to the local police, who claim they are far too busy to worry about such trivialtise.

Many Sicilians stole or "traded" their Eisenhower jackets and GI pants before Allied troops left Sicily early in 1946. But most have bought them since on Palermo's Via Lattarini, near the city center, where 50 street traders opened shop as uniform outfitters an hour after the last military policeman departed.

Here you can buy almost anything ever stocked in an American or British quartermaster depot: parachute silk, all colors, $2 a yard. American and British Army overcoats, complete with military buttons, new, $12.50, second hand around $5. A similar warm coat made of civilian materials would cost a Palermitan upwards of $37.50 which only the relatively wealthy can afford.

The origin of all the merchandise is shrouded in mystery. The only certainty is that none of it reached the Via Lattarini legally, or was officially disposed of by any Army organization.

According to the traders, some came from individual soldiers with a few spare shirts and a shortage of cash, some from "wholesalers" who have set up business in stolen Allied property and some from big "deals" by quartermaster personnel long since redeployed.

"While the Americans were here," police say, "they arrested anyone with American equipment. But that was their equipment and their business. We have neither time nor inclination to interfere."

Frostburg City Officials Plan New Water Mains

Health And Safety Improvements Asked

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, March 13 — The Mayor and City Commissioners were requested last night by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to make a number of improvements this summer for the health and safety of residents of the community.

Franklin Martens, representing the Jaycees, appeared at City Hall and submitted recommendations, stressing in particular larger water mains and other improvements to the city water system.

He was informed by the city fathers that plans were already made for laying water mains and increasing the size of the reservoir on the Atkinson property on the east side of Big Savage Mountain so it would contain a seven-day supply of water at all times. This reserve of water would be in addition to the regular water supply for domestic consumption flowing from the large reservoirs at the filtration plant.

12-Inch Line Planned

Plans for the new water mains, according to City Clerk Alex G. Close, were made by Whitman, Requardt and Associates of Baltimore, and City Engineer Philip Hartig. The plans, according to Mayor Skidmore, provide for a new 12-inch line from the Savage Mountain reservoir at the filtration plant to the west end of town and reducing to an 8-inch line at the corner of High and Ormond Streets.

The 8-inch line would extend down Ormond to Water, to Charles, to Bowery, to Spring, to Grant and up to Union, where it would connect with the present water mains on East Union Street, forming a loop around the town. The present line from the reservoir to Main Street is an 8-inch line, which will remain in use in addition to the proposed 12-nch line.

These plans, Mayor Skidmore said, are subject to change. Funds for the new construction will be obtained, Close said, from a $60,000 bond issue bill now pending in the Maryland Legislature, $20,000 of which is to be used to retire present bonds and $40,000 for the larger water mains.

Other recommendations made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce included the prompt laying of a sidewalk to Miners Hospital, a "paint up" and "clean up" campaign, street identification signs on all streets, additional trash cans on the principal streets, prohibiting the display of fruits and vegetables on the sidewalks, improvements of all streets and sidewalks, particularly Bowery and Center, and making Bowery and Center Streets one-way to relieve present traffic conditions.

Other Suggestions Made

The Jaycees also recommended that consideration be given to stopping the unlimited parking of motor cars on these streets and doing away with grass plots to make the streets wider. Another recommendation was that steps be taken to prohibit the scattering of garbage and trash along Midlothian Road leading to the city dump. The condition along the road, once a beauty spot of this section, was termed disgraceful and a menace to health.

The Mayor and City Commissioners informed Martens that all the recommendations from the Junior Chamber of Commerce would be given careful consideration.

Mayor Skidmore reported that the city had ordered flood lights to be used at the new city parking lot on Mechanic Street and that the street surface in the neighborhood of the lot was to be covered with suitable material so as to make traffic more convenient. He also reported that a new bucket loader garbage unit mounted on a truck chassis is to be purchased for use this summer. Six additional trash cans for use on the streets of the community have been ordered.

Welsh Theater In Westernport May Be Rebuilt

Total Fire Damage Set At $22,000

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, March 13 — The Welsh Theatre, the former Star Theatre on Main Street, which was gutted by fire early this morning, will be razed if materials for a new building can be secured. If not, it will be remodeled as soon as possible, James A. Welsh owner and manager, stated today. He estimated his loss at $10,000, partly covered by insurance.

Welsh said he made an inspection of the theater 20 minutes before the fire was discovered. The stage and the theater seats were not damaged. The moving picture machines were saved but will have to be reconditioned.

The theater was built by the late James Ward, a former mayor of Westernport, and Welsh purchased it from the late Floyd Lininger in 1940. Welsh remodeled the building, secured new equipment and changed the name to the Welsh Theatre.

Started In Driveway

The fire started in a driveway in the rear of A. L. Loomis's grocery store and the entire stock and equipment of the store was damaged by fire and water. Loomis, who placed his loss between $6,000 and $8,000, partly covered by insurance, believes the fire was of incendiary origin. He said he will not re-enter business. Loomis's store is also a part of the Welsh Building. Joseph Nelson, a son-in-law of Welsh, operates a clothing store in the lower side of the Welsh building. The store was damaged by water and the roof was damaged by fire. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were visiting in New York at the time. Some clothing was carried from the store to safety. The loss could not be ascertained.

The two story frame building owned by the Malloy Estate adjoining the Welsh building suffered a $4,000 loss, partly covered by insurance, when the roof and partition upstairs caught fire. Leo Kidwell operates a restaurant on the first floor, which was damaged by water. Restaurant equipment was moved outside to safety.

Nine fire companies fought the blaze for over two hours before it was brought under control. The Goodwill Fire Company of Lonaconing pumped water from George's Creek because all available water plugs were filled with water lines.

Motorists Hampered Firemen

As soon as the fire alarm was sounded the booster pump installed last fall in the wood yard of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company was turned on, making plenty of water available. Two Western Maryland Railway trains were delayed on hour and a half because fire hose was laid on the Main Street crossing, run from a plug on Ashfield Street, Piedmont, across the inter-state bridge to Westernport by the McCoole and Keyser fire companies.

Motorists hampered the firemen by getting too close to fire zone and they are warned in the future they will be prosecuted if it is continued and by following fire apparatus too close.

Potomac Fire Company No. 2 of Westernport; Tri-Towns Fire Company No. 1 of Piedmont; Bloomington Fire Company; Beryl, W. Va., Fire Company, and Barton, Lonaconing, Luke, Keyser and McCoole firemen fought the blaze.

Three firemen were injured. James Trenum, a member of Potomac Fire Company, cut his finger while chopping through the roof of the theater and Harmon Gannon of the Barton Fire Company was struck in the head with a rock which had been thrown to break a window to put a hose line through. Three sutures were necessary to close the wound. Cecil Bateson, member of Tri-Town Fire Company, was cut on the hand by falling glass.

$500 Donated To Drive

Five hundred dollars has been reported collected in Piedmont in the house to house solicitation for the Red Cross with half of the workers reporting, J. Harold Baker, chairman, announces. The quota for the Piedmont district is $1,000 and Baker expects to get $300 more in Piedmont and the other $200 in the district which includes Elk Garden, Shaw, Barnum and Cross. Dewey Dick has been appointed chairman of Elk Garden.

Baker has not been able to get beyond Elk Garden to appoint workers on account of the recent heavy snow. He expects Piedmont canvassing to be completed by March 15 and the rest of the district about April 1.

Wins Contest

Miss Margaret Ann Rankin, member of the senior class of Bruce High School, won first prize in the sub-district contest of the national public speaking contest sponsored by the Methodist Church Youth, held Tuesday night at Calvary Methodist Church at Ridgeley, W. Va. Miss Joann Borrer of Fort Ashby was second.

Miss Rankin receives a free trip with all expenses, except transportation, paid for one week to the West Virginia Wesleyan Assembly. Her theme was "The World Service of the Methodist Church." R. L. Moore, Jr., Westernport, also a senior of Bruce High School took part. His subject was "Methodist's Work in Negro Education."

The district assembly will be held next month at a place to be announced later.

The winner of the national contest will receive $500 in cash and a four year scholarship to any college or university that the winner selects. Twenty-nine persons from Trinity Methodist Church of Piedmont accompanied Miss Rankin and young Moore to Ridgeley.

N., Westernport, state health nurse. The theme of the program was "Cancer Control." Miss Neumann gave a talk and presented two moving pictures made by the American Cancer Society. The titles were "On Guard" and "Time of Life." Mrs. Short sought $10,000 damages for injuries she allegedly sustained while en route to Memorial Hospital, December 28, 1945, for obstetrical care, when the Astor cab in which she was a passenger was "suddenly and recklessly" stopped on Maryland Avenue and she was thrown to the floor. Amount of settlement was not disclosed.

Reformers Go After The King's English

LONDON (AP)—Britons may face their next crisis with traditional "flem"—instead of "phlegm," if a group of about 140 Members of Parliament of all parties have their way.

The coal crisis could not divert them from theiir desire to reform the English spelling of English.

Dr. Mont Follick (Labour — Loughborough) sees on this the basis for English as a universal auxiliary language. He is to carry the campaign to public meetings throughout the country.

Another enthusiast, Isaac P. Pitman, will have much to say on the question when he tours America, Australia and New Zealand later this year.

A committee of influential members of the House of Commons has been formed under W. J. Brown which will appoint a deputation to Prime Minister Clement Attlee and George Tomlinson, the new Minister of Education, to raise the issue of spelling reforms.

Public Speaking Contest Will Be Held March 28

Knights Of Pythias Sponsoring Event

District finals in the public speaking contest sponsored in Allegany and Garrett Counties by the Knights of Pythias will be held Friday, March 28, at 8 p. m. in Centre Street Methodist Church, according to John C. Fisher, special district deputy grand chancellor and a member of the three-man committee in charge.

Elimination contests have already been held at Fort Hill and Allegany High Schools, in which 17 and 19 contestants, respectively, took part.

Contestants Listed

Donald Tharpe and Calvin Mahaney, both seniors at Fort Hill, and Barbee Sue Mansfield, a junior, and Robert L. Smith, senior of Allegany, are the winners of the preliminary contests in those schools.

Elimination contests are also being held at Oakland, Friendsville and Accident High Schools, which will each send one person to take part in the March 28 contest.

The subject to be discussed by all contestants is "Juvenile Delinquency, Its Cause and Cure." All speeches will be limited to 10 minutes, with one extra minute of grace. If any speaker uses more than 11 minutes, he will be disqualified.

Fisher said there will be three judges, two from this county and one from Garrett, whose names will not be announced until after the contest. First, second and third prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded.

The district contest is being sponsored by the two K. of P. lodges in Cumberland, the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan here, and lodges in Frostburg, Midland, Lonaconing, Oakland and Friendsville. The committee in charge is headed by O. M. Brotemarkle, assisted by Fisher and Joseph C. Wilson, district deputy grand chancellor. Brotemarkle is state supreme representative.

The first two winners of the district finals will go to Baltimore on Friday, April 18, for the state finals, with their expenses paid. Each of the winners from the four regions throughout the nation will meet in final competition on August 14 in Beaumont, Texas, before the Imperial Palace of the Dramatic Order, Knights of Khorassan.

Paraguayan Aircraft Bomb Rebel Positions

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 13 (AP)—Paraguayan government planes "bombed rebel military objectives" outside the rebel stronghold of Conception, a government communique said tonight.

Meanwhile, there was a hint of unrest in Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay. The chief of police here issued orders that severe penalties would be imposed on persons searching private homes while pretending to be police. He said a number of such searchers had been made apparently for political purposes.

Appeal Is Filed Opposing Permit Already Granted

In the first case of its kind since the city zoning ordinance was passed in November, 1944, an appeal has been filed by a property owner against a permit already granted by the city engineer.

Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, received a letter yesterday from Julius E. Schindler, notifying him that Mrs. Edith F. Mays, 229 Bedford Street, desires to enter an appeal to the Zoning Appeals Board against Rizer's decision in granting a permit March 7.

The permit referred to was granted to George Giatras, who operates a confectionery store at 233 Bedford Street, to construct a two-story brick building at 223 Bedford Street for a confectionery.

Schindler said his client objects to the granting of the permit on the grounds that the property is located in a Residential C zoning district and that construction of the building would depreciate property values in the section.

The letter stated that granting of the permit violated Section 4 of the zoning ordinance, which lists the restrictions of building in residential districts and states in effect that buildings and property in such areas shall not be used for business, commercial or industrial purposes.

A copy of the letter was also sent to the Board of Zoning Appeals.

Rizer said he notified Giatras of Schindler's letter, and added that he granted the permit because he knew Giatras intended to build such a structure on the property when the latter purchased it in 1940, four years before the zoning ordinance was passed.

Rizer said he consulted Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, who advised him to notify Giatras not to start construction until after the appeal has been heard.

Giatras said he was unable to start construction immediately after buying the lot in 1940 because of war shortages of material and labor, adding that he razed the two-story brick dwelling already on the lot shortly after buying the land, to make way for the proposed new structure.

Giatras said he planned to move his confectionery store to the new address and to expand it, taking his two sons, both Army veterans, into the business.

Schindler said Mrs. Mays owns property at 227, 229, 231 and 233 Bedford Street, the latter being the location of Giatras' present store. He has been in business there for a number of years.

Bus Drivers

arbitration is the only answer since the company is taking such an arbitrary stand."

May Last For Months

Asked how long in his opinion the strike will last, Morrison replied:

"In view of the unfairness of the campany's attitude throughout and the frame of mind the membership is now in because of the unreasonable position taken by the company, I see no hope of any settlement in the near future. If the company continues in its present stand the strike may last for months. Other members of the union feel the same way."

Speaking for the bus drivers, Morrison said they regard the people who use the buses not as fares but as "friends, neighbors and relatives. We hate to inconvenience them. We've done all we can to settle the dispute and get the buses running again. We want to appeal to riders, business houses and industries to contact the company and urge them to meet the fair demands made on them by the union or submit to arbitration and get the strike settled immediately."

Both Morrison and Elliott said Mayor Post and Commissioner Keegan were invited to the meeting merely as observers and that they did not participate in the discussion or take sides.

Contacted last night, Mayor Post said he was "much impressed by the dignity" in which the meeting was conducted.

The Mayor said he is "hopeful we can find a way to end the controversy" and said he believes "everybody is doing all they can. I am hoping for a break every minute and will be very grateful when it comes."

Commissioner Keegan said he would rather not comment at this time.

Committeemen Comment

Four members of the union's negotiating committee made statements yesterday.

Said Burr Powell, vice president of Local 1110: "The company has proved to me definitely that they are not interested in the public or they would have accepted our proposals."

Lawrence Grim, union secretary, declared, "We've done everything possible to get the buses running and I'm convinced the company is not sincere in its efforts."

Elmer Holler, negotiating committeeman, asserted, "We've made every effort possible to end this strike but it hasn't been given any consideration by the company."

Nelson Rosenmerkle, another negotiating committeeman, stated, "It looks like we'll need a Philadelphia lawyer. We of the committee have exhausted our knowledge of finding ways to settle the dispute."

Meanwhile, no more meetings between the union and company have been scheduled. Conciliator James A. Holden, of the United States Conciliation Service, is out of the city, but is expected to return over the weekend.

People of the Middle Ages avoided learning the entire multiplication table by developing a simple method of multiplying on their fingers, a system that is still used in some parts of the world.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. —Advertisement

FLUSH OUT KIDNEYS
THIS DOCTOR'S WAY

● Backache, loss of the old pep, getting up nights, and headache are often caused by nothing more than improper kidney action due to excess acid in the urine. The kidneys are one of Nature's ways of removing impurities from the blood. And when these impurities back up, trouble may start.

So if you have these troubles, give your kidneys and bladder a good flushing out by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. It works on the kidneys to flush them out . . . increasing the flow of urine to help relieve that excess acidity and ease that burning sensation when you pass water . . . helps that bladder irritation that makes you get up nights.

Made of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, and balsams, Swamp-Root is absolutely nonhabit forming. Millions have taken it for 3 generations . . . often with wonderful results. Caution: take as directed.

For free trial supply, send to Dept. Y, Kilmer & Co., Inc., Box 1255, Stamford, Conn. Or—get full-sized bottle of Swamp-Root today at your drugstore.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, March 13—Tarzan will be 30 years old in a few months. The first Tarzan was made in 1918 and Sol Lesser, who's made a fortune with the Edgar Rice Burrough's stories, is planning to celebrate the 30 years by spending nearly $2,000,000 for the next Tarzan picture. He's calling the new one "Tarzan and the Mermaids."

Madeleine Carroll

That means that Johnny Weissmuller will be completely surrounded by girls and Sol plans to bring swimmers from all parts of the country. Well there are rivers and lakes in jungles, aren't there?

Johnny, meanwhile, is in the throes of marital difficulties with Mrs. Weissmuller. They've been with lawyers all week and as soon as things are settled, there will be a divorce and he'll probably marry Allene Gates, golf champion.

Bob Sterling and Ann Sothern can't get together in their marriage—but they can't keep apart on their contracts. You remember, he bowed out of his M-G-M deal when he and Ann broke up because he felt he would do better on a lot where his former wife wasn't a star. So what happens?

Bob has just signed a long termer at RKO where Ann is completing "Indian Summer" (on loan-out) and where she is to start another movie in six weeks!

When our spy asked Ann on the set today, whether propinquity might reconcile them, she said: "Not a chance." Bob's first will be "The White Swamp" with Liz Scott and Burt Lancaster.

Chatter in Hollywood—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., must have had a surprise. Mrs. Vanderbilt is not asking for one penny of alimony. That's the first time it's ever happened to Neeley with any of his wives. All she wants is reasonable court costs and her attorney's fee.

Jerry Geisler and William V. O'Connor are representing Mrs. Vanderbilt. She must have made up her mind suddenly to divorce the much-married Vanderbilt, for she called me after I said they were separated and denied it—and in a few days came the divorce suit.

The "Daisy Kenyon" deal is due to be closed any day now for Joan Crawford. The bait held out to her in this case is Dana Andrews and Henry Fonda, a cast that would make any gal happy. "Daisy" is Otto Preminger's picture, so I think we can say it's going to be one of Twentieth Century's biggies.

"Daisy Kenyon" is the Elizabeth Janeway novel and Joan has always had her eye on it.

Madeleine Carroll has let her Hollywood representatives know that she is ready and willing to return for a picture. She hasn't been on the West Coast since she did an outstanding war time job.

'Tis whispered that Madeleine wants $150,000 a picture and she will probably get it, too.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Joan Crawford is out of town for a few days, and she hasn't told even her close friends where. No, it's not another quarrel with Greg Bautzer. They're still discussing marriage.

Margaret O'Sheridan, who had the lead in Howard Hawk's picture, "Red River," and then through an "act of God" was removed from the cast, has welcomed a baby girl. In private life, she is Mrs. William Pattison.

A card from Mrs. Edward G. Robinson, who's been having herself a wonderful time in South America.

Hadn't been in the Belasco Theatre in ages until I went to see Gertrude Lawrence in "Pygmalion." Gertie, as usual, got a big hand. But the surprise, I think, of the evening was Ralph Forbes, who is so excellent as Gertie's father. His mother, Mrs. Mary Forbes, was one of those who applauded him at the first night.

Jessica Barthelmess did the new dance studio for Fred Astaire in New York, and I'm told it's the last word.

Kay Kyser's 86-year-old mother, Mrs. P. B. Kyser, arrives from North Carolina to visit him and to meet her granddaughter.

Tony Romano, who went around the world with Bob Hope during the war, will become a father before long.

David Sebastian registered at the Roney Plaza in Miami under the name of David Hunt. He's there to see Carmen Miranda and bring her back to California for their marriage.

What's this with Marguerite Chapman and Bentley Ryan? They were at the Biltmore Bowl after seeing "Anna Lucasta," and the night before that at Ciro's, and the night before that, somewhere else.

Gail Russell and Guy Madison at the Hob & Nob in riding outfits. Jack Pepper, once married to Ginger Rogers, has opened there.

Two eastern dress manufacturers are bidding to bring out Peggy Ann Garner line of clothes. Well, Shirley Temple made a fortune on royalties and maybe Peggy Ann will, too. Couldn't happen to a nicer little girl.

That's all today.

Birds Decide Midway Won't Blow Up Again

MIDWAY ISLAND (AP)—The birds are coming back to Midway. There has been a notable increase in the bird population of this pre-war bird sanctuary.

The comical gooney bird and the peculiar sound of the moaner—who only cries when he's well fed—are back.

The white terns—known as "love birds" for their faithfulness—canaries, curlew and snips now number in the thousands. Officials report that the return of the birds has been an effective morale builder to both Pan American World Airways and U.S. Navy personnel stationed at the atoll.

The two theaters in London in Shakespeare's time were located in Shoreditch, a borough. The name is thought to be derived from Sir John Soersditch, who had his residence there in the reign of Edward III.

It's An Ill Wind And Really Is

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—A mysterious change in the direction of prevailing winds from the Pacific, persisting since last November, brought floods to southern California and severe drouth to the northern sections, U. S. Weather Bureau observers report.

The wind-born rain clouds which splashed freak floods over the Los Angeles area in late November and December normally would have brought needed showers to the northern districts, they said.

LOCUSTS EATEN BY EXPLORERS IN PHILIPPINES

CHICAGO, (AP) — People knocking about remote regions meet, and eat, strange things.

Capt. Harry Hoogstraal, leader of the Chicago Natural History Museum's Zoological Expedition in Davao Province in the Philippines, reports:

"We are maintaining a camp at 7,200 feet in the mossy stunted forest, where our life is largely an aerial one of climbing from one soggy mossy arboreal patch to another (and often hanging between them up to our armpits)!

"We have experienced some very rainy weather, heavy windstorms and one locust plague at the lower camp which actually broke off the trees, but the locusts were succulent enough to reduce materially the museum's food expenses for awhile."

The history of Siam or Thailand, goes back to the fifth century B. C. An attempt is made to show the descent of the king from Gautama Buddha, and of the people from his imediate disciples.

Old Lang Signs A Good Deed

NEW ALBANY, Ind (AP) — County welfare officials who dole out old-age pensions year in and year out said they'd never seen anything like it: Harry J. Lang, 85, who had raised enough money to leave the pension rolls a year ago, died and bequeathed his $5,300 estate to reimburse the county for 11 years' pension benefits.

Ethiopians Push Plans For Schools

AP Newsfeatures

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia — Since regaining his throne in 1941, after seven years of Italian rule in Ethiopia, and taking up again the cut threads of the wide reform program which Mussolini Italy's invasion had interrupted, Emperor Haile Selassie has consistently emphasized that Reform No. 1 in his realm remains—as it was during pre-invasion days—education.

It is frankly admitted here that great difficulties face the Ethiopian government in carrying out the country's ambitious educational reform. The most important of these difficulties, says Emmanuel Abraham, director-general in the ministry of education, are: shortage of qualified teachers; lack of building material for new school buildings; and inadequate schoolroom supplies for existing schools.

But many of the best buildings in Addis Ababa have been given over to schools; a teachers' training college has been opened in the city; qualified teachers are increasingly being imported from America, England, Sweden, Egypt, Switzerland, and India; and increasing numbers of young Ethiopian laymen and priests are being more and more drawn into educational work.

The schools now range from elementary, central, commercial, technical to schools for sons of chiefs and music and arts schools.

The school budget for 1945-46 amounted to 697,340 pounds, as compared with 95,674 pounds in 1943.

The youngest U. S. Marine ever to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor was Pfc. Jacklyn H. Lucas, 17 years old.

FRANCE GETS BULK OF U. S. WAR SURPLUS

AP Newsfeatures

PARIS—The bulk of American war surpluses originally costing $1,398,000, located in France, have been handed over to French authorities during the last six months.

Since last August, 272 former Army supply depots and other installations, scattered all over France, have been transferred under terms of the Blum-Byrnes agreement signed in Washington last May.

Many stocks that have been short in France were acquired by the French government.

More than 120,000 Army vehicles of all kinds, together with spare parts and repair shops, were included. Road graders, cranes, power shovels, compressors and excavators were among $347,000,000 worth of engineer depot stocks handed over in the deal.

The rebuilt port of Cherbourg, with cargo capacity increased by $15,000,000 worth of United States Army construction, was one of the most valuable single installations involved.

Under the Blum-Byrnes agreement, providing a loan to France of $1,370,000,000, the sum of $300,000,000 was earmarked to buy the surplus goods.

Man-Eating Robber Meets Tough Nemesis

WAUKEEGAN, Ill. (AP) —A thief put the bite on Emil Peterson. The robber tripped him on a dark street, pounced on him as he lay on the pavement, bit him on the shoulder, and started to go through his pockets. But the victim-elect became so aroused, physically and vocally, that the assailant fled.

Local Man Held On Bad Check Count

Charged with passing a bad check for $100, Peter Loncarevich, Jr., 164 Bedford Street, was arrested here yesterday and is being held in Allegany County Jail for the State's Attorney.

A warrant for Loncarevich's arrest accused him of obtaining $100 from the Sears Roebuck and Company Store, here, by means of a check drawn on the Commercial Savings Bank March 1.

Police said the warrant was obtained by A. W. Mellott, listed as affiliated with the local store. Officer G. E. Pfeiffer made the arrest. Police said Loncarevich was formerly associated with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Police Department.

Man, 29, Faces Paternity Charge

Arrested March 6 and held for grand jury action on a charge of carnal knowledge of a 14-year-old girl, Jack Phillips, 29, Barrellville, was arraigned before Magistrate Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday and held for grand jury action on a second charge, one of paternity, preferred by the same girl.

Bond of $500, the same amount set in the first case, was set in the paternity charge and Phillips posted the sum.

Authorities said Phillips was first arrested after the mother of the girl, identified as Jean Bowers, Bowman's Addtion, filed a complaint in the office of the State's Attorney.

The alleged act was committed in February, according to the warrant.

Arrested on a charge of assaulting his wife, Mrs. Maxine Turley, last Saturday, Authur Turley, LaVale Boulevard, received a suspended sentence of 30 days in the county jail and was paroled for one year by Magistrate Frank A. Perdew in magistrate court yesterday.

Court attaches said the alleged assault occurred when Turley and his father went to a local hotel to talk with the former's wife about the custody of their son, aged 5. The Turleys are separated.

Mrs. Turley resides at the hotel with her father, John W. Dahl, who is manager of the hostelry.

Mrs. Hollen Receives National Recognition

Mrs. Edgar Hollen, 324½ Grand Avenue, Cumberland, shares honors with three other homemakers in the United States in the April issue of an national magazine. Mrs. Hollen and the other homemakers are featured in the homemakers section of the magazine in an article entitled "Spring Meals."

This is the second time Mrs. Hollen has received national recognition for her excellence as a homemaker in this section. In July 1946 she was featured with her two children, Gayle and Donald. Since that time her husband has returned home from service.

In the April issue Mrs. Hollen is again pictured in connection with a spring meal, which the homemaker editors suggest as appropriate for Mrs. Hollen and her family. The editors have suggested for Mrs. Hollen and her family a fresh slant on spring meals.

The other women shown in the same article with Mrs. Hollen are Mr. P. W. Metz, Fargo, N. D., and Mrs. Earl McGrath, Burlington, Vermont.

Services Scheduled

"Who Is the Real Atheist?" will be the subject of Rabbi Maurice Feuer's sermon at B'er Chayim Temple tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock he will preach on "Torah."

The B'nai B'rith Sabbath, originally scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Friday March 21.

Friday night, March 28, has been designated as "Isaac M. Wise Memorial Sabbath" in honor of the 128th anniversary of the birth of the founder of Reform Judaism in America.

Dedication of the tombstone of Nathaniel Guggenheimer, postponed from last Sunday will be held Sunday, March 16 at 2:30 p. m. at East View Cemetery.

In 1890, at Montrouge, France, Fernand Forest put his four-cylinder engine, its carburetor, its water-cooling system, and its magneto ignition on a wagon chassis, thereby creating, it is said, the first four-cylinder automobile.

B. & O. Worker Hurt

A B. and O. machinist's helper, William T. Wagner, 20, 500 Woodside Avenue, was treated yesterday morning in Allegany Hospital for injuries to his left hand. Attaches said the man's finger was caught in a drill while at work. X-rays were taken to determine the extent of injury.

Wayne Soult, 32, Kitzmiller, an employe of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company, Vindex, admitted to Memorial Hospital early yesterday morning following an accident at work, was described in "fairly good" condition last night.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

OLD JUDGE: "Those steers have certainly done well, Hank. They've put on a lot of weight since I saw them last time. Don't tell me..."

HANK: "Yes, Judge, you guessed it... I'm usin' those distillers' dried grains... like you recommended. How did you know they were so good?"

OLD JUDGE: "It only stands to reason, Hank. All the distillers take out of grain during distilling is the starch. The part rich in vitamins and proteins is recovered... dried ...and returned to the farmers as highly nutritious feed supplements. Doesn't it help you save your original grain in feeding, too?"

HANK: "Sure does... about 20%. And my cattle, livestock and poultry are thrivin' like they never did before. I'm savin' grain and gettin' fatter, healthier livestock."

OLD JUDGE: "Guess nobody can tell you anymore that distillers waste grain can they Hank?"

HANK: "Not me, Judge... I know the truth now."

Plan School Boy Patrol Trip To Nation's Capital

Motor Club Working On Annual Excursion

The Western Maryland Motor Club is making arrangements for the annual excursion of School Boy Patrol members to Washington, D. C. on May 10, according to Daniel D'Amicol, director of the patrol.

The Patrol, which now includes both boys and girls, numbers over 500 youngsters in Allegany and Garrett counties, and it is hoped D'Amicol said last night, that the majority of them will make the trip to Washington.

The Western Maryland Motor Club which has sponsored the School Patrol for the past 12 years, will provide lunch and dinner for the children. Tentative plans are to leave here early in the morning of May 10, by a special Baltimore and Ohio train, to arrive in Washington in time for the 9 a. m. parade.

Over 25,000 School Patrol children from all parts of the United States are expected to participate in the annual parade and sight-seeing tour. After the parade the local contingent will be divided into small groups and various places of historical and educational interest will be visited, before the special train makes its return trip.

D'Amicol said it is also hoped that at least one of the local school bands can accompany the Western Maryland patrol on the trip. He said a plan is being worked out for uniformity of dress of the patrol members and this city and county should have an excellent representation in the parade.

The School Boy Patrol in this section has an excellent record for accident prevention and care of school children of all ages, and earn whatever award the club and local people can offer them, D'Amicol declared. The trip to Washington is one that the patrol members are keenly interested in, and everything possible is being done by the local club directors to have all the children make the trip.

Senate Validates Liquor Licenses

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 13, (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the House today an emergency bill to validate all Allegany County liquor licenses until April 30, or pending enactment of a new license law for the county.

Senator Kimble (R-Allegany), who put the bill in yesterday after the Court of Appeals held the Allegany licensing law unconstitutional, was successful in getting it on today's calendar.

It was passed unanimously. Allegany legislators are at work on a new bill to take the place of the invalidated law.

$15,000 Fire Hits Martinsburg Garage

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., March 13 (AP)—A $15,000 fire described as the city's worst in more than four years destroyed an automobile repair establishment and badly damaged a double frame dwelling.

Wendell Allen, owner of the repair shop, was treated at a local hospital for burns about the face, Fire Chief Ward M. Davis said. The blaze also threatened the King's Daughters Hospital for a time, and preparations were made for the evacuation of patients.

Davis said firemen were hampered for several minutes by a lack of water. Four automobiles and all equipment in the repair shop likewise were destroyed.

Minke Advocates Game Refuges For Cumberland Area

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, Wednesday advocated the establishment of wild life sanctuaries to aid in the fight against the extinction of wild life in the United States.

In his talk before the Cumberland Optimists Club, Minke pointed out that the passenger pigeon and the heath hen were completely extinct when the conservation movement started in the United States in 1900.

Early naturalists wrote of the passenger pigeon which was so plentiful that the sky was darkened by their passage, yet, at the turn of the century the species was extinct.

The American buffalo was virtually extinct when drastic measures were taken for its survival. The animal is now flourishing, he added.

Even with the conservation measures in effect, the 22 states which had wild turkeys in 1900 has dropped to 12 and the 28 states having ruffled grouse has dropped to 12, Minke said.

Deer, which had increased 20 fold since 1900, is the only form of wild life which has increased appreciably in this area, he added.

Minke pointed out that the State Game and Fish Committee owns 128,000 acres of land in Allegany and Garrett counties and that a portion of that land could well be made into wild life sanctuaries.

The Optimists St. Patrick's Day dance will be held Monday at 9 p. m. in the Queen City Hotel.

A motion picture, Streamlined, depicting the progress in cars and airplanes, will be shown at the next meeting of the club Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. in Central YMCA.

French Judges Are Anti-Feminist

PARIS — (AP) — Although the recently-ratified French constitution guarantees equality of rights to men and women, French magistrates stubbornly remain anti-feminists.

At a recent meeting they voted a motion protesting an eventual nomination of women to posts other than judges of children's courts, objecting to planned nominations of women to posts of district attorneys, public prosecutors and judges.

DRIVE HEADQUARTERS WILL REMAIN OPEN

Red Cross campaign headquarters in the federal grand jury room, Post Office building, will remain open the remainder of March for the convenience of persons who have not yet contributed to the drive, according to Mrs. Lee W. Witherup, executive secretary of the county Red Cross chapter.

Although the campaign is over the top, on the basis of the $30,844 reported at the victory dinner Tuesday night at Central YMCA, some division reports are incomplete, and campaign workers are asked to continue canvassing until they have covered their respective districts.

Mrs. Witherup said that the solicitation at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant is expected to be completed by the end of the week. Mrs. Jim McQuown, co-chairman with Mrs. Holmes H. Cessna of the women's division, said she will probably have reports today from the two section chairmen in that division which have so far not completed their canvassing.

The final report, from all divisions will not be available for some time, Mrs. Witherup said, until complete returns have been received and audited. She explained that the drive in county communities was delayed by unfavorable weather at the start of the campaign and consequently some sections have not yet been heard from.

Keyser High Edges Charles Town, 31-29

Fred Blamer's Field Goal Wins Game In Last Minute

Moorefield To Play Rowlesburg Tonight

KEYSER, W. Va., March 13.—Keyser High School advanced to the finals of the Region No. 4 basketball tournament tonight when Fred Blamer's field and foul goal in the final minute of play eliminated Charles Town High School, of Jefferson county, by the score of 31 to 29.

Charles Town, coached by "Zip" Lorenz, was leading Keyser by the score of 29-28 with 1:10 left to play. With less than a minute to go Fred Blamer connected with a set shot to send Keyser ahead. Then he hooped a free throw before the final whistle.

Final Set For Saturday

Through its victory Keyser gained the right to play the winner of the Moorefield-Rowlesburg game here Saturday night at 8 o'clock for the Region No. 4 championship and a place in the state championship tourney at West Virginia University, Morgantown, March 20, 21 and 22.

Moorefield, winner of the Parsons sectional tourney, and Rowlesburg, victor at Kingwood, will clash here in the other semi-final game Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Blamer's foul goal was the first point scored in the game but Emmert meshed two shots for Charles Town to put the Martinsburg tournament winners out in front at 2-1. At one time in the first period Charles Town held an 8-point lead at 11-3 and at the quarter whistle the count was 13-5 in favor of the Jefferson countians.

Charles Town Blanked

Charles Town failed to score a single point in the second period and while blanking the invaders Keyser clicked off 12 tallies to forge ahead to take a 17-13 lead at the intermission.

William "Pickle" Jones started the rally with a long shot. Kenny See heaved in a set shot from the side and then came back to mesh a one-hander from the foul circle. Don "Cotty" Cline knotted the count at 13-13 with a one-handed special with 2:10 left to play. Then Jones banged in a hook shot and Lee telegraphed one from almost mid-floor to give Keyser a four-point edge at the halfway mark.

Keyser Loses Quinn

Keyser lost Tommy Quinn, first string guard, via personal fouls with the score 22-15 in the third quarter and his banishment seemed to weaken Coach Fred Clark's team. Charles Town remained four points in the rear when the third period ended. The score was 25-21.

With the count standing 28-24 in the fourth period Charles Town staged a last ditch rally and forged ahead at 29-28 on a field and foul goal by Edwards and a lay-up shot by Glenn, Keyser, however, pulled the game out of the fire on Blamer's basket and singleton.

A crowd of approximately 700 persons witnessed the thriller which handled by Bill Hahn and "Eck" Miers. A total of 30 personal fouls were called — 13 on Charles Town and 17 on Keyser.

Glenn Gets 17 Points

High point honors were captured by Walter Glenn, Charles Town's classy center. The son of Dr. Marshall "Little Sleepy" Glenn, one-time West Virginia University all-around athlete and coach, racked up 17 points on seven field goals and three free throws. Jones, of Keyser, was next in line with nine tallies, including four field goals.

Keyser edged Charles Town in field goals, 11 to 10. Each team made nine points at the 15-foot line. Lineups:

MARYLAND DEPUTY WARDEN HELD

BALTIMORE, March 13 (AP)—A deputy United States game warden was charged in federal court today with "aiding and abetting" three hunters to shoot 27 ducks on his farm last January 31 after hunting season had ended.

U. S. Attorney Bernard J. Flynn filed a criminal information against George W. Kennedy, an unsalaried game warden of Kennedysville, Kent county. The three hunters also are charged with shooting the ducks during the closed season.

The information charges that Kennedy, described as a farmer, sportsman, and commercial hunting operator, kept vigil for the trio while they shot the birds. He even fired a warning signal when other game wardens approached the area, the information says.

The other defendants are: Wilbur Walbert, of Warton, Md., a former employe of Kennedy during the hunting season; Robert H. Stafford, a merchant of Burrsville, Caroline County, and John J. Vonville, Burrsville clerk.

LOS ANGELES DONS SIGN BOB KELLY

LOS ANGELES, March 13 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dons announced today that they had signed Bob Kelly, sparkling 21-year-old halfback star at Notre Dame and Navy.

Coach Dud Degroot called Kelly one of the most important acquisitions to date, in the Dons' effort to whip together an All-America League pennant contender. It will bring the speedy Chicagoan once more into uniform with Angelo Bertelli, his teammate at Notre Dame, where they performed as a fine passing combination. Bertelli is a Don quarterback.

Kelly started at right half for Notre Dame in 1943 and 1944, played in the New Year's Day East-West game in San Francisco in 1945, entered the Naval Academy later that year. He stands five feet, 10 inches and weighs about 188.

Battlers Defeat Wesleyan Cagers In Finale, 58-29

Winners Avenge Loss In 1946 Tournament

By CHARLES ARMENTROUT

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., March 13, (AP) — Alderson-Broaddus, a favorite right from the start, took more than a title tonight by convincingly defeating West Virginia Wesleyan 58-29 for the 1947 West Virginia State Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament championship.

For Alderson-Broaddus it was revenge for a 49-47 defeat in the final last year.

The A-B Battlers went ahead of the defending champions in the first three minutes and proceeded to "pour it on" in answer to the shouts of their supporters in the crowd of 2,500 fans, most of them home town rooters hoping Wesleyan would repeat its 1946 performance.

Coach Rex Pyles threw all three of his ace-high Peleaz brothers at the tired Wesleyan team, which had to play inspired ball to upset Fairmont last night and down Salem to even reach the championship contest.

The all-tournament team:

Forwards—Darl Wilmoth, Alderson-Broaddus; Floatz Peleaz, Alderson-Broaddus, and William Phillips, West Virginia Wesleyan.

Centers—Eugene Brissey, Salem; Chet Marshall, West Virginia Wesleyan, and Sam White, Beckley College.

Guards—Dave Oldaker, Wesleyan; Mike Yewcic, Potomac State, and George King, Morris Harvey.

Allegany Outclasses Hagerstown, 45 To 16

Campers Capture Class "A" Title In District No. 1

Eligibility Ruling Weakens Visitors

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Holding a scrappy and courageous, but completely outclassed Hagerstown High quint scoreless from the field in the first half, Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Allegany High Campers continued to run rampant as they chalked up an easy 45-16 victory over the Maroon and Gray to grab District No. 1 championship honors in the Maryland Sholastic Basketball Tournament last night on the Fort Hill court before a crowd of approximately 600 fans.

Win 12th Straight

Racking up their 12th straight win and 19th of the season in 24 starts the Blue and White had difficulty in finding the hoop in the first period, leading 4-0 as that quarter ended, but from then on were unstoppable.

The contest was a helter-skelter affair in the first half, both teams going at top speed up and down the court but with neither of them hitting the cords with any degree of consistency. Russell "Stilts" Hilleary bucketed the first goal four minutes after the opening whistle on a pretty tip-in of a rebound. Ned Clopton's set shot from the side two minutes later was the only other score of the intitial canto.

Hilleary dumped a set shot home and then Gene Shaw, clever and agressive Camper guard, connected from under the hoop after taking a pass from Jim Clingan. Tommy Powers' foul goal made it 9-0 Allegany before Leon Spessard broke the ice for Hagerstown with a charity toss with five minutes remaining in the period. Two quick goals by Shaw, another by Hilleary and a one-hander from the side by Clopton made it 17-1 Blue and White as the half ended.

Play Under Handicap

Coming out for the second half the fighting Washington Countians, playing under a terrific handicap with six of their players not on hand to play, including three regulars, because of ineligibility, attempted to make a game stab at overcoming the large Cumberland lead. Paul Wolfkill netted a pretty one-hander for Hagerstown's initial goal with 7:40 remaining in the third stanza. A sensational toss from mid-court by Clyde "Grub" Myers and a tip-in by Wolfkill chopped six quick markers off the Allegany margin.

With the count reading 17-7 the "Battling Redhead," Shaw, took over the scoring reins personally to dump five consecutive fielders through the nets before Ned Clopton connected with a long one for the Bowersmen. John Recher concluded scoring for the canto with a goal and AHS led 29-9 as the final quarter opened.

Continuing their 21-goal barrage the WMI and City champs soon were out in front 37-12 with five minutes to go when Bowers substituted a whole new team. The reserves, paced by Tom Jamison, outscored Hagerstown in the final moments of the game to complete the rout.

Shaw Gets 20 Points

Gene Shaw again was the whole show for the Campers, leading the attack with 10 goals and 20 points, 14 of them in the final half. Tommy Powers, although scoring only three points, played an outstanding floor game, as did Jim "Sonny" Lease and Jim Clingan.

Recher, one of two regulars playing for the Maroon and Gray, paced his mates in their losing cause with seven markers and played an aggressive game, ably assisted by Wolfkill and Myers.

The Hagerstown coach announced before the game that Bob Carey, Henry "Hank" Ditto, Jonas Eshelman, George Ox, Bob Hammond and "Peck" Martin, all ex-G.I.s, were declared ineligible or graduated from school in Hagerstown's accelerated course before this fray. All were over-age. Martin, the only one to get his diploma, Eshelman and Carey were first stringers.

The Allegany Reserves defeated Fort Hill Jayvees in the preliminary in a close contest, 28-27. McGregor paced the winners with 12 markers while Alderton had eight for the losers. The lineups:

Larry MacPhail

Leo (The Lip) Durocher

THEY'RE FEUDING — Bitterness between Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher, below and his former boss, Larry MacPhail, above, president of the New York Yankees, has become more intense following Durocher's charge that two known gamblers attended exhibition games between the Yanks and Dodgers in Havana, Cuba, as guests of MacPhail, in defiance of baseball code.

MacPhail Issues Verbal Complaint

Brooklyn Secretary Refuses To Comment

PANAMA CITY, Panama, March 13 (AP)—Harold Parrott, road secretary of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said today he had "no comment" to make on the complaint of New York Yankee President Larry MacPhail that Parrott and two other Dodger officials had insinuated that the Yank boss had two known gamblers as his guests at a baseball game.

MacPhail said last night at St. Petersburg, Fla., that he had registered a verbal complaint with Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler and named Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, and Manager Leo Durocher as the two other Brooklyn officials.

MacPhail added that he would file a written complaint with Chandler as soon as he received copies of New York papers carrying the story in which Rickey is quoted as saying: "If I saw these men in the Brooklyn park I would have them thrown out. x x x apparently there are rules for Durocher and other rules for the rest of baseball."

Parrott added that "I have not seen any column charging MacPhail as consorting with gamblers and it would have to be shown me before I could comment."

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 13 (AP)—The Navy basketball team scrimmaged today with George Washington University's cagers in a workout designed to keep the tars in fighting trim for the N.C.A.A. eastern division basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden March 20th.

The Washingtonians were the only team to defeat Navy this season.

Coach Ben Carnevale's Sailors will engage the Quantico Marines Tuesday in another warmup tussle.

Both teams today used virtually every squad member and scoring was about even, with emphasis on floor play.

Bell Tests Lamotta In Garden Tonight

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—Tommy Bell, welterweight contender from Youngstown, Ohio, and Jake Lamotta, hard-hitting New York middleweight, collide for the third time tomorrow night in a ten-round fight at Madison Square Garden.

Alderson-Broaddus Puts Cats Out Of Tournament

Battlers Top Potomac State By 75-55 Score

BUCKHANNON, W. Va., March 13. (AP)—Potomac State lost the winning touch that produced two early round upset victories and wearily trailed down to defeat today 75 to 55 before the Alderson Broaddus Battlers in the opening semi-final tilt of the state college cage tournament.

West Virginia Wesleyan and Salem immediately took the floor in the second game, with the winner advancing to the finals as AB's opponent tonight at 9 p. m. in the championship game.

Only in the first three minutes could the Catamounts make a game of it. They held a 5 to 2 lead, but Darl Wilmoth and Joe Peleaz broke quickly with two goals to put AB in front and from there on out the Battlers coasted.

Potomac State appeared to be burned out and the offensive spurt shown by Mike Yewcic and Company in beating Bethany and Glenville, was entirely lacking. Ken Simms was the only man hitting the basket with any regularity, getting a total of 20 points.

At the half, AB was far ahead, 43 to 23. High scorer for the winners was Wilmoth with 20, followed by Captain Floatz Peleaz with 15, Gene Mackey with 13 and Joe Peleaz with 12. Lineups:

BRUCE AND BRUNSWICK MEET TODAY AT 3 P. M. ON FORT HILL COURT

Coach John "Chip" Grindle's Bruce High School cagers will meet Brunswick High School of Frederick county today at 3 p. m. on the Fort Hill High School court for the Class "C" title in District No. 1 in the tournament being sponsored by the Health and Physical Education Association of Maryland Schools.

Bill Hahn and "Bobby" Cavanaugh will officiate in this afternoon's game.

Bruce won the right to represent Allegany county in the Class "C" tourney by defeating Central of Lonaconing in a playoff game by the score of 35-22 after the schools had split even during the regular season.

Brunswick opened play in the district tourney by defeating Boonsboro of Washington county, 41 to 32.

With Barton eliminated from the Class "D" tourney, Allegany (Class "A") and Bruce (Class "C") are the only Allegany county teams still left in the tourney. The county was not represented in the Class "B" games.

Vanderbilt To Play Topnotch Cage Teams

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 13 (AP)—Vanderbilt University's recently disclosed plans for placing greater emphasis on basketball were given a boost today by announcement of an ambitious 1947-48 schedule calling for games with every Southeastern Conference five except Florida and with four non-conference teams.

Athletic Director Henry R. (Red) Sanders said that 14 SEC games already had been scheduled, and that he was negotiating with Georgia for two games and with Georgia Tech for a tilt in Atlanta. Non-conference games will be played with Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers, perennially one of the toughest teams in the south, Xavier of Cincinnati, and Tennessee Tech and David Lipscomb of Middle Tennessee.

Starkey Halted In First, Catanese Loses Decision

Local Boxers' Win Streaks Snapped

The winning streaks of two of Cumberland's outstanding amateur boxers were snapped early yesterday morning in the opening round matches of the South Atlantic A.A.U. tournament at the Baltimore Gardens, Baltimore.

Randall "Skeets" Starkey, local American Legion welterweight, lost in the opening round to Leon Vincente, of Havre de Grace after winning his first start from Fred Demski, of the Poodles Athletic Club, Baltimore.

The victory over Demski was the seventh in a row for Starkey as well as his 11th triumph in 12 starts as a simon pure.

Referee Stops Match

The Starkey-Vincente fight was halted by the referee in the initial round and there are two reasons given for the official stopping the affair. One is that Starkey was disqualified when one of his seconds, Bill Niland, shouted instructions to him after "Skeets" had been floored for a count of nine. The other is that the referee stepped in and stopped the match to save Starkey from taking further punishment.

Niland is reported to have jumped into the ring after the bout was stopped and issued challenges right and left. Confusion reigned for several minutes and order was restored after Niland was instructed to "go back to the country."

The Vincente-Starkey match was the 37th on the program and got under way at 1 a. m., five hours after Starkey had outpointed Demski.

The second Cumberlander to have his winning streak halted was Jimmie Catanese, who fought in the 126-pound class and was decisioned by Joe Turner, of Carver High School, Baltimore. Turner was champion in the S.A. tourney and runner-up for national honors last year. Catanese had won five in a row previous to this setback.

Moss Loses Close One

Joe Moss, Ridgeley High School athlete, made his fistic debut in the tourney and gave a good account of himself in losing a close decision to Stanley Cousins, Baltimore Athletic Club heavyweight.

Presley W. "Red" Mauk, manager of the South Cumberland A.C., which entered Catanese, Bobby Goss and Johnny Tressler in the tourney, indicated last night that Tressler will not return to Baltimore for next Wednesday's tourney matches. The S.C.A.C. drew a bye in the first round.

"It will mean that Tressler will lose another day's work and it's too expensive making those trips to Baltimore," Mauk declared.

Joe Niland Becomes Ill

Joe Niland, local middleweight, failed to get into the tourney on account of the fact that he became ill. Dr. Tumminello, examining physician, advised Niland to refrain from entering the tourney.

Goss lost his opening round bout to Mike Bruno, of St. John's A.A., Baltimore on a split decision.

To Stage Tourney

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. March 13 (AP)—Nearly 100 of the outstanding prep and high school boxers in the South Atlantic states will punch away in the twentieth annual South Atlantic Prep and High school championship tournament at the University of Virginia's memorial gymnasium starting Friday.

Bill Dudley Voted Most Valuable Player

National League Names Steelers' Backfield Star

Waterfield, Second, And Fritsch, Third

By ROBERT MOORE

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 13 (AP) — Modest Bill Dudley, the mite of a halfback who once had a tough time convincing folks he was big enough to play football, today heaped superlatives on his former teammates and coaches, the Pittsburgh Steelers, after learning he'd been named the National Football League's most valuable player for 1946.

"Those other guys—give most of the credit to them," said Dudley, who hung up his playing togs in January to become backfield coach at the University of Virginia, his alma mater. "A guy couldn't go in football without those other fellows.

"Gee, I'm lucky," Dudley chirped, admitting he was "certainly surprised" to find he got 42 points in the Joe F. Carr Memorial Trophy by the selection committee, including 18 sports writers in home cities of NFL teams. "It's the highest tribute they pay a professional football player."

Waterfield Is Runner-up

Behind Dudley in the voting were Bob Waterfield, of Los Angeles, who won the honor in 1945, with 28 points; Ted Fritsch, Green Bay, 18; Sid Luckman, Chicago Bears, 17; Jim Benton, Los Angeles, 7; Paul Christman, Chicago Cards, 4; Frank Filchock, New York, 4, and Sammy Baugh, Washington, two.

Dudley, who received eight first place and two second-place votes to become the seventh winner of the Carr award, said he never seriously considered "I might be good enough" to get the trophy.

"Oh, naturally," Dudley laughed, "sometimes I hoped I would. You know how it is—sort of like a green kid going out for football the first time in college and hoping some day he would make the All-America team."

Dudley revealed then by the tone of his southern accent that the fellow who did just about everything a player can do with a football was going to miss grabbing that oval-shaped piece of leather and churning out the yardage when autumn comes again.

"Yea," Dudley said, "I will miss it for a time. I always enjoyed professional football. It'll be just like anything else you've done for a long time. I say I'll miss it, but I had to think of the future years.

Won't Go Back To Pros

"I'm certain I won't go back to the pros," continued Dudley, who said after he was carried from the Steelers-Philiadelphia Eagles game December 1 with a torn knee ligament that he knew his limitations and that he was not big enough to take such a beating as the National League called for in a key player.

"I like things at Virginia just fine. It's where I went to school and just like home to me. Now, I'm going to try to teach these youngsters what I've learned about football, and I hope the luck I had playing football will stick with me as a coach."

During the 1946 season, Dudley's second full year with the Steelers, he led the league in ground gaining with 604 yards in 146 thrusts, was the circuit's biggest nuisance at intercepting passes, fifth in scoring with 48 points, tied for fourth in punting, seventh in kickoff returns and the thirteenth best passer.

WAKEFIELD'S $52,000 BONUS MAY BE TOPPED BY SCHOOLBOY

John Antonelli's Dad May Ask Record Price

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13, (AP) — Dick Wakefield's $52,000 bonus, an all-time high, may be dwarfed by Johnny Antonelli, a 16-year-old southpaw pitcher who attends classes in a Rochester (NY) high school while his proud dad makes the rounds of the big league training camps.

Baseball law has wrapped this dazzling youngster in cellophane and hung a "don't touch" tag around his neck for he can't be signed until his class graduates from school in June, 1948. However, there is no law to prevent a fellow from talking to his father, August Antonelli, who is willing to listen.

The elder Antonelli is cagey about figures but his head is buzzing with big numbers. Unbelievable as it may seem, the asking price probably will be an unheard of $100,000.

Pap Antonelli, a squat barrel-chested railroad contractor who came to this country from his native Abruzzi, Italy, 34 years ago, has established a winter residence in St. Petersburg. Daily he takes short spins to the surrounding camps.

"Johnny can throw harder than Bobby Feller right now," the father sagely advises, clutching a bulging scrap book under his arm. Mr. Feller, himself, was duly impressed by a look at the kid's record while vacationing here before Cleveland started training in Arizona.

The book offers enthusiastic proof of Johnny's pitching prowess although it doesn't say he can throw as hard as Feller. Last summer he won 27 games and lost two, pitching for Jefferson High School and the Flower City Post of the American Legion. In 129 innings he struck out 278 batters, an average of better than two an inning. Over one stretch he allowed a total of only four hits in six games and he had a no-hitter in school.

Just to round out the picture, he hit .293, played quarterback on the football team and starred on the basketball five. And he still has a senior year coming up.

As Johnny won't be 17 until April 12, he still is eligible for Legion ball where he probably will play this summer. However, that isn't definite.

The Texas oil industry claims it paid 52.5 per cent of all the business and property taxes paid into the state's coffers in 1945.

Adamle Joins Pros

COLUMBUS, O., March 13 (AP)—Tony Adamle, Ohio State University's fast and rugged center of 1946, decided today to give up his remaining two years of college eligibility in favor of turning professional and joining the Cleveland Browns of the All-America Football Conference.

The 215-pound Clevelander, who played approximately 45 minutes of each game on the Buckeye schedule last season, said he had "sought and received" terms from the Browns for the 1947 season.

Bus Drivers Say Strike May Last Months; Put Settlement Up To PE

Public Is Asked To Request Arbitration

Cumberland's bus transportation may remain at a standstill "for months" unless the Potomac Edison Company changes its position and attitude, officers of Local 1110, city bus drivers and mechanics union, declared last night.

The union put the end of the strike completely into the hands of the company and appealed to bus riders and heads of business establishments and industries to call on Potomac Edison officials, asking them to meet the union's "fair demands" or submit the dispute to an impartial arbitration board.

Henry W. Price, PE Cumberland District manager, said he had no comment on yesterday's developments other than that the union "turned down our offers."

The union's appeal to the public and the declaration that settling of the strike, now entering its ninth day, is "up to the company" was made by James H. Morrison, president of the Cumberland local, after proposals made by both sides were rejected yesterday, the union membership turning down two counter-offers at a two-hour meeting attended by Mayor Thomas S. Post and Commissioner William V. Keegan.

Discloses Proposal

John M. Elliott, international representative of the union, disclosed yesterday afternoon the terms of an offer he submitted to the company Wednesday which was turned down yesterday.

In disclosing the offer, Elliott said the membership has repeatedly instructed the negotiating committee to accept nothing less than $1.15 an hour, but that he took it upon himself to make the proposal with the hope it would be accepted by the membership.

Elliott's proposal, he said, was made on the basis of bus schedules and runs now in effect and would provide for the company to pay time and a half pay after 46 hours work with it being agreed that no run would be less than 50 hours.

Explaining, he reminded that the company has offered $1.07 an hour, an increase of 10 cents over the present rate, and said that a guarantee of 50 hours work with time and a half being paid after 46 hours would assure the drivers $1.11 an hour.

It was pointed out, however, that the hourly rate would remain at $1.07 and that premium time would be lost in case of absence due to sickness or for other reasons.

"Running true to form as they have in the past," Elliott said, "the company cut the proposal to pieces and then whittled the pieces down, coming back with what they called a counter-offer."

PE Makes Counter-Offer

This offer, he stated, provided for time and a half pay after 48 hours without guaranteeing any minimum hours.

The company "also insisted that we take back to the membership another proposal," Elliott said, adding that it amounted to resubmission of a previous proposal with an additional provision.

This offer was the 10 cents an hour increase plus a three-cent bonus retroactive for 10 months plus the provision that in event the company's revenue per mile from November 1, 1946, to November 1, 1947, would average 38 cents or better per mile, then the drivers automatically would receive on January 1, 1948, a three-cent increase, raising the rate to $1.10 for the remaining two months of the contract, Elliott said.

If revenue per mile was less than 38 cents, the increase would not be granted automatically but the company would be willing to reopen the contract, he added, continuing that revenue per mile now is 40 cents and that for the year ending last December it averaged 41.4 cents.

At the membership meeting yesterday afternoon, members unanimously rejected both of the company's offers and approved by a slim margin, after considerable debate, Elliott's proposal which the company had rejected in the morning. It was approved with the provision, union officers said, that it be accepted immediately by the company and that bus operation would begin this morning.

Rejected Flatly

When the union action on the company proposals was conveyed to company officials yesterday afternoon, Elliott's offer again was submitted but was rejected flatly, Elliott asserted.

He added that in view of the company's rejection, "I'm in no position now to say what would settle the dispute other than submitting it to an impartial arbitration board."

The company has refused to arbitrate the dispute, Elliott poined out, and said that "since the company has taken the position that $1.07 is the best it can pay and that it feels it is paying the prevailing rate for bus drivers, it should willingly submit to arbitration if that is a true picture, because that is where the true facts would be presented.

"I don't know anything else to do to settle the strike," Elliott declared. "I've gone far beyond the minimum demands of the membership and settlement is now completely in the hands of the company."

Union President Morrison declared that because of the inconvenience the strike is causing the public the company should be willing to arbitrate the dispute.

He said he "does not think it is right for the buses not to be running simply because the company refuses to submit to arbitration. We believe

Local 1874 Union Section Elections Are Being Held

Chairmen Selected In Five Departments

Five of the 16 departments of the Amcelle plant, Celanese Corporation of America, have elected Local 1874 TWUA committee officers, and three others have made nominations with the remainder scheduled to complete inter-department elections before the end of this month.

William Boyd Coleman, president of the Local, said much interest is expressed in the department elections where a chairman, vice-chairman and several committeemen are elected for one-year terms, since the chairmen usually represent the departments on the negotiating committee and carry the department grievances to union and company officials.

Five Have Elected

The five departments that have elected officers include, filtration, spinning, service, bobbin-spun and dyehouse.

William Price was elected chairman of the Filtration Department, with F. C. Williams selected to serve as secretary. George A. Meyers heads the Spinning Department, with the following vice chairmen who will serve on the three shifts: Albert Stine, John Lindner and Lester McGill.

In Service Department Earl Nixon was elected chairman, and William Miller, Clifton Malcolm and Paul W. Windler were elected to fill the vice chairmen positions.

Playford Aldridge was elected chairman of the Bobbin and Spun Stores Department with the following vice chairmen to serve with him: James Russell, Russell Bennett, Leroy Hare and Joseph Barncord. Evelyn Morgan and Pearl Keith were elected vice-chairmen of the Spun Stores department which operates under the Bobbin department chairman.

Albert Starkey won the chairmanship in the Dyehouse Department, Mary Daum was elected chairman of the Twisting Examination Department. Carrie Steele and Elizabeth Cramer will serve as vice-chairmen in the Twisting Examination Department.

Three Complete Nominations

At present three departments have completed nominations and will hold runoff elections to select department officials within a week, Coleman said. The three departments and the candidates for office are:

New Strip Mining Bill To Be Drawn

ANNAPOLIS, March 13 (AP) — Under a more flexible bill to be prepared tomorrow by a committee of delegates and state geological experts, strip miners would be made responsible for filling in their mine cuts, but not for landscaping the soil.

Delegate Clark (D-Harford), chairman of the House Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee, today named delegates Geppert and Fey (R-Allegany) and McIntire (R-Garrett) to meet with John J. Rutledge, chief mine engineer; Joseph T. Singewald, Jr., director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, and William H. Bayliff, executive secretary of the Board of Natural Resources.

They will collaborate in writing a new bill to embody changes suggested in today's meeting of the Agriculture Committee.

Clark said the consensus was to empower the Bureau of Mines to decide the extent of land rehabilitation that would be required after each mining operation.

This would hinge on the nature of the land before it is mined and the depth of the excavations.

As a preliminary safeguard, the Bureau would also be authorized to fix the amount of bond that would be required of a miner before he began operations.

Geppert, sponsor of the original bill which had more stringent provisions, said he still believed the backfilled areas should be planted, but that sentiment against it was too great.

His bill was recommitted to the Agriculture Committee after an Allegany delegation report encountered opposition in the House.

As first drawn, it would have required a bond of $300 per acre mined and approval of the state forester of all beautifying measures taken after the excavations were filled.

Body Of North Branch Veteran Found In Shed

Verdict Of Suicide By Hanging Issued

A young Army veteran Frank Ellsworth Bloss, 25, was found dead yesterday about 4 p. m. in a wagon shed on the farm home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Lloyd, off the River Road in the North Branch section, county authorities said last night.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, issued a verdict of suicide by hanging and set the time of death as late Wednesday afternoon.

Terrence J. Boyle, county investigator, who investigated the case with Sgt. William O'Hara of the LaVale State Police barracks, said members of the family reported Bloss was worrying about the condition of his twin brother, Charles, a shell-shock patient in the Veterans' Hospital at Perry Point, Md.

The family said that Bloss arrived at the Lloyd home about midnight Tuesday, driving up from Baltimore for a few days' visit. He was employed at the Glenn L. Martin aircraft plant near Baltimore.

Harold Lloyd discovered his brother-in-law's body hanging from a heavy chain fastened to one of the rafters in the wagon shed, Boyle said. The family said Bloss had not been seen since Wednesday morning. Lloyd went out to look for him when he noticed his brother-in-law's car was still parked in the yard.

Bloss entered the service February 3, 1943, and served overseas in Europe with Company A. of the 797th Military Police Battalion. He was discharged six months ago with the rank of corporal, and went to Baltimore to work. He was unmarried.

Born January 15, 1922, at North Branch, Bloss was a son of James E. and Ethel May Monnett Bloss, who reside on a farm adjoining the Lloyd property. Besides his parents, twin brother and sister, Mrs. Elma Lloyd, he is survived by two other brothers, James Bloss, this city, and George Bloss, Annapolis; and three other sisters, Mrs. Louise Rankin, this city; and the Misses Ethel May and Mary Elizabeth Bloss, at home.

Amvets Auxiliary Finishes Projects

Two projects sponsord by the Auxiliary Unit of J. Louis Wolford Post No. 1, Amvets, have been completed, Mrs. Joy Effland, president, announced following last night's meeting of the auxiliary at the post home.

The reading room and lounge has been furnished and is now open to Amvet members, and a snack bar, operated by members of the auxiliary, will be open from 9 p. m. until midnight each Saturday and Sunday. Appreciation was expressed to local merchants for their aid in furnishing the lounge.

Plans were made to aid the Amvets in selling tickets for their first informal dance, to be held Friday, April 11, at the Southern Hotel. Music will be provided by Jay Van's orchestra.

The auxiliary will also aid the post in holding ceremonies in Hillcrest Burial Park on Memorial Day, May 30.

It was decided to hold a birthday party at the last meeting of each month in honor of members whose birthdays are in that month. The first such party will be held at the next meeting, scheduled for Thursday, March 27.

Mrs. Mildred Kington, chairman of the committee in charge, will be assisted by Mrs. Dolly Bennett.

Forum Patrons May Exchange Extra Ticket For Seat At Opera

Jaycees Buy Block In Reserved Section

Jaycee Community Forum patrons who hold season tickets will be presented complimentary tickets to the presentation of "La Traviata" next Thursday night at Fort Hill High School Auditorium, according to Charles S. Catherman, Jr., Forum chairman.

Sponsors of the appearance of the New York Civic Opera Company, Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Forum Committee, have made an arrangement whereby Forum tickets will be honored in exchange for Opera tickets to Thursday's performance.

Catherman explained that Forum patrons last year did not hear the fully scheduled number of lectures, when Marion Hargrove failed to appear here. This season the Forum committee included in the season ticket books, an extra ticket in the back of the book, good for an extra attraction, without charge.

This extra ticket may be exchanged at any place where Opera tickets are on sale, for any reserved seat ticket for "La Traviata."

Since the final lecture on the Community Forum program is also scheduled for Thursday, with Bruce Bliven the speaker, the Jaycees have arranged for the lecture to start at 7 p. m., and end at 8 p. m., so that Forum patrons can also attend the presentation of the opera "La Traviata" at 8:30 p. m.

Members of the Junior Association of Commerce and also of Henry Hart Post, agreed to this plan, so that the two affairs will not conflict, and so that the Jaycees can pay their obligation of "an added attraction this year."

James W. Beacham, opera ticket chairman, said tickets are on sale for both Thursday and Friday nights opera performances at The Music Shop, Inc., 5 South Liberty street; Wilson Hardware Store, North Mechanic street; Stewart Music House, 114 Greene street, and Truitt's Drug Store, Virginia Avenue.

Beacham said the advanced sale has been reported good, and suggested that persons who want reserved seats for either or both nights, get them early. Friday night's performance will be "Carmen."

The entire company which will present "La Traviata" and "Carmen" here numbers 65 people. This week they are appearing in Lexington, Ky. and last week played in Birmingham, Ala. They have been sponsored by service clubs and veterans organizations throughout the south and east, and come here highly recommended by their sponsors in other cities.

The New York Civic Opera Company has been on tour for over 30 years, and emphasizes the fact that there is only one road company on tour, and this is the original New York unit. The roster includes some of the country's best known singers, Antonio Fiora, Gerta Koblitz, Frank Iezzi, Marilyn O'Connor, Lorenzo Cianfrini, Pina Guido, John De Merchant, Henry Kulkman, George Strong, and others.

The company includes its own symphony orchestra and ballet, together with an elaborate operatic chorus.

In the company this year, there are many young American singers. It has only been in the past few years that such a condition was acceptable to the opera-going public. It seemed to be an accepted fact, in music circles, that operatic stars should be imported from Europe. Consequently, many American artists went to Europe for training, changed their names and returned.

William Reutemann, manager of the New York Civic Opera Company, in a recent interview with a musical journal declared that since the organization of his company in 1916, he has given opportunities to young Americans of proven ability, and that most of these are billed under their American names.

Members of Henry Hart Post Opera Committee will meet Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the VFW home, according to Commander Raymond Reynolds.

ALONG THE POTOMAC TO WASHINGTON

By J. GLENN BEALL
(Member of Congress from Maryland Sixth District)

The beautiful old Potomac River keeps rolling along the banks of the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland right to and past Washington. This old man river hears everything that's going on. And there is always something happening in the Capitol City that affects you in one way or another. It's going to be my aim in these weekly activity roundups to get the tide talk and let you in on it.

THE ROADS TO WASHINGTON

I attended last week a meeting of the Sub-Committee on Roads of the House of Representatives Public Works Committee. Representatives of State Highway Departments were there. They gave to the Committee many fine ideas which should help formulate a walloping good roads program. Most of you are probably thinking right this minute of the highway that runs through your town. You can be assured that I will do everything possible to help return to the State of Maryland the reputation of having first class highways.

HOSPITAL FOR VETERANS

The men in the Fort Washington Chapter No. 2, Disabled American Veterans, and those in Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Cumberland, requested that a veterans hospital be established in or near Cumberland. Upon receiving this request I contacted General Bradley's office in the Veterans Administration, told them a little about the situation in that part of the country and asked that favorable consideration be given this project. I'll keep a weathered eye open for the Veterans Administration's decision on the matter and let you know.

NO MAIL

Since a part of a rural route in Frederick County was discontinued a while back, many persons in that area miss the friendly mail man and the letters from Junior in Germany. A group of these folks are coming to Washington and we're going to see Mr. Jesse Donaldson, First Assistant Postmaster General, and see what can be done.

SURPLUS GOODS

I am interested in seeing that all veterans hopeful of getting surplus property from the War Assets Administration can do so with the minimum of confusion. Write me and I'll give you details of the steps necessary to get some of the surplus equipment.

UNDER THE DOME

The huge dam on the Colorado River, which was first known as the Hoover Dam and later as Boulder Dam will soon be officially named Hoover Dam if the Senate follows last week's action in the House. The legislation passed the House without a single dissenting vote . . . Enactment of new labor laws is expected to come within the next 30 to 60 days. What are your views on this important legislation?

If you are thinking of a visit to the Capitol to see your legislators in session, remember that the House of Representatives usually meets every day except Saturday from noon until around 5 P. M. The Senate meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Senate sessions this week run from noon to 5 P. M. and from 7:30 until 10 P. M., inaugurating a new schedule of night sessions.

Dr. James B. Conant, President of Harvard University, told the House Interstate Commerce Committee that 12,000 students are needed for scientific training. The Committee is studying five bills to establish a National Science Foundation.

COMING UP

Annual competitive examinations for appointment to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will be given by the Civil Service Commission May 7th and 8th. Unmarried men between 17 and 22, military or civilian, are eligible if educational requirements are met. Candidates interested in taking this examination should write to the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., before April 1st to make arrangements for the examinations. I shall be glad to send full information and regulations to any who are interested.

Weather, Strike Increase Demands For Taxi Service

Companies Swamped With Calls For Cabs

Cumberland's taxicab service, strained for the past eight days by the Potomac Edison bus strike, reached the breaking point yesterday afternoon when the rainy weather and a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad pay-day gave new impetus to the demand for public transportation.

The Astor Company, reportedly operating the largest fleet of cabs in the city, estimated that calls for cab service over a 14 hour period yesterday reached the 1,500 mark, approximately 500 more than had been received in any 24 hour period since the bus drivers struck March 6.

The rush which started about 10 a. m. reached a peak between 4 to 7 p. m., taxi drivers said adding that many persons were forced to wait as long as 50 minutes for service or walk during those hours.

Pay Day Increases Business

Taxi cab companies operating in the city attributed the early morning business to the fact that the Baltimore and Ohio Shops paid their employes yesterday, but said the rain which began falling about 2 p. m. increased the demand for cabs beyond the capacity of possible service.

During the evening dinner hour one company manager said it was impossible to answer all requests for service, but he was unable to give an estimate of how many persons were left without transportation.

The large number of persons who are employed in the downtown section and ordinarily ride buses who more recently have been walking were forced to depend on the taxi cabs yesterday because of the rain and thus swelled the demand for service, one driver said.

Johnny's Cab Service, which operated seven vehicles in the city, reported approximately 800 calls were answered during the rush period yesterday and said it represented an increase of about 300 calls over the previous peak days of the strike when an average of 500 calls a day were answered.

The public, however, is taking the situation in stride, many of the drivers said, and yesterday they accepted the extended waiting period without getting too excited or irriated.

Should Cancel Calls

One of the biggest difficulties that taxi drivers are experiencing during the strike and especially yesterday, is the fact that many persons call cabs and then accept rides from friends without cancelling the calls, drivers declared.

According to taxi cab ethics it is necessary either to wait for the cab once it has been called or else to take time to cancel the order.

While it is an accepted fact that the current bus strike has been a boom to the taxi business, several of the managers said yesterday the increased demand is working a hardship on equipment and it will be necessary to have much of it completely overhauled when the current strike ends.

Delegates Act Favorably On School Bond Measure

Approve Enabling Act On $2,000,000 Bill

The Allegany County delegation yesterday reported favorably on a bill introduced in the House of Delegates last Friday by Delegate Lester B. Reed to enable the County Commissions to issue bonds for $2,000,000 for construction of new high schools at Mt. Savage and Lonaconing and a new elementary school at Ellerslie.

Horace P. Whitworth, Jr., delegation chairman, emphasized that the act is enabling and not mandatory and that issuance of the bonds is entirely in the hands of the County Commissioners.

Get Power To Act

"The commissioners can act if they wish," he said, "but they don't have to issue the bonds if they don't want to. If conditions change and they see fit to issue the bonds they will have the power to do it."

The County Commissioners on March 4 by unanimous vote refused to approve Reed's request that they support the proposed bond issue, citing that present costs of materials and labor are prohibitive.

Yesterday the delegation went on record as feeling it is inadvisable at this time to issue the bonds, Whitworth said. "For that reason," he added, "we are not demanding that the commissioners issue the bonds but are giving them the power to do so. Conditions may change in two years," Whitworth said.

The House yesterday passed a bill introduced by Sen. Robert B. Kimble which would repeal a local Cumberland law exempting certain tracts of land in the city from taxation.

Used For Agriculture

Under present law, certain land within the city was exempt from taxes as long as it was used for agriculture purposes. If signed by the Governor, this land can be placed on the city tax books.

Delegate Charles M. See introduced a bill to prohibit the placing of chairs or other obstructions in the aisles of any building or amusement place used by the public.

Whitworth said yesterday he has amended his bill providing for a wholesale liquor dispensary to be operated by the county so that excise taxes to the state will be provided for. He said he worked on this provision of the bill with Roger Laynor, of the State Comptrollers' office, and agrees with Laynor that it should be included.

Chief Says Arson Suspect Will Be Arrested Today

Westernport Fire Probe Continues

Chief of Police Burza Hanlin of Westernport said last night that he will arrest today a Westernport man suspected of starting a fire that caused estimated damage of $22,000 to a Westernport theater, store and restaurant late Wednesday night.

Hanlin said evidence indicates the fire was set and that it began in the rear of the Loomis grocery store.

"We have a suspect in mind," Hanlin stated, "and expect to pick him up today."

While the Chief did not identify the suspect, he said he was "hanging around" the theater Tuesday and Wednesday nights and that he was put out of the movie house Tuesday night.

Wednesday night, the night of the fire, the suspect was the last person to leave the theater, Hanlin said, and left between 10:30 and 11 p. m. The fire was discovered at 11:10 p. m.

According to Hanlin, there is a thin partition between the theater and the Loomis store and the fire could easily have been started in the partition.

The suspect, after being arrested, will be brought to the office of the State's Attorney in Cumberland, the Chief said.

Hanlin also reported numerous articles of clothing that had been carried from Joe's Clothing Store for safety reasons because of the fire were stolen on the street. These items included shirts, sweaters, gloves and other wearing apparel, and Hanlin said anyone seen wearing any of the clothing will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Hanlin also criticized the actions of "outsiders" who came to Westernport during the fire. He said "about a dozen" were arrested on disorderly conduct charges and either were fined or forfeited bond ranging from $17 to $27.50 each. He said most of the disorderly persons were from Lonaconing and that some of them posed as firemen.

School Girl Hurt When Hit By Car

A 16-year-old Little Orleans school girl was injured, not believed seriously, when she was struck by an automobile after she got off a school bus in front of Midway Restaurant, Belle Grove, yesterday at 4 p. m.

State Trooper William F. Baker, who investigated, said Mildred Martin, a student at Flintstone High School, was injured when struck by the car operated by William Garnet Hazard, of Walter Falls, Ontario, Canada, lecturer. He said she suffered abrasions and bruises of the leg and head and was discharged after being treated in Memorial Hospital.

Hazard either didn't see the girl or she ran in front of him, Baker said. Hazard posted bond of $11.45 for a hearing Saturday on a reckless driving charge.

A charge of reckless driving was filed against Gene Palmer Hill, Route 40, Cumberland, following a collision between the pickup truck State Police said he was driving and a tractor-trailer truck operated by Paul F. Stumbaugh, Williamsport, Md., at 1:45 p. m. yesterday.

Trooper William McElfish investigated and said Hill, headed west on Route 40 started to turn in to the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club east of Cumberland and drove in front of the tractor-trailer truck. The smaller vehicle, struck on the side, was carried about 75 feet, the officer said. No one was injured.

Huge Snow Drifts Delay Funeral

Forced to keep the body of their daughter in their Location, Tucker County, W. Va., home for three days after death occurred Mr. and Mrs. Simon Jones were unable to notify relatives or friends of the death until 15 men had cleared a two mile stretch of road of huge snow drifts.

Wednesday night after three days of work the crew succeeded in bringing the body of Miss Dessie Mae Jones, 42, into Parsons, W. Va. on a horse-drawn sleigh. In some sections of the road, they reported digging through drifts 30 feet deep before the way could be opened to bring the body to a funeral home.

Miss Jones, died Monday morning after an extended illness. At the funeral home in Parsons, the family said the body would be kept in Parsons, until Saturday when the funeral service will be conducted, because drifting snow would make it impossible to return to the country district.

Services will be conducted in the Fairview Methodist Church and interment will be in the church cemetery.

Permit To Construct Garage Is Granted

Merrill Barnes secured a permit in the city engineer's office yesterday to build a two-car garage with a four-room apartment on the second floor, at the rear of Lots 229 and 230 on Frederick Street at the corner of Fectig Avenue.

Cost of the two-story structure, which will measure 25 by 27 feet, is estimated at $4,500. The building will have a concrete block foundation and walls, with a rubberoid shingle roof. Work will be done by Ralph Baker and Kenneth Ramage.

A permit was also issued to James A. Kulham to enclose a first-floor 8 by 20-foot porch at 414 Warwick Avenue and to build a room above the porch. Brick veneer walls and a composition roof will be used. Work to be done by the owner, is estimated to cost $850.

New Liquor Bill May Be Presented To County Board

Group Expected At Meeting Today

A non-partisan group of citizens, not connected in any way with the liquor business, is expected by some Court House attaches and observers, to appear before the County Commissioners at their meeting this morning, to urge adoption of a liquor law which would set up retail package stores and a wholesale liquor dispensary, operated by the county.

While no one came forward as official spokesman for the group, it was learned last night that a bill has been prepared, "as a revenue producing measure", which, if made law, will make it possible for the county to operate retail liquor stores in incorporated communities, and to set-up, maintain and operate a wholesale whisky house.

The proposed measure, it is explained, will have no affect upon the beer industry, distribution or retail sale, and is designed to regulate the sale of whisky in wholesale and retail lots for off-premises consumption.

A system of licensing is also advocated for clubs and retail places where whisky is dispensed by the drink.

Advocates of the measure maintain that the proposal, similar to that in Montgomery county and in some other states, will result in producing large amounts of revenue for the county and incorporated communities involved, and will also result in a lower wholesale and consequently reduced retail price on package bottled goods.

Numerous groups, including labor and civic organizations are reported interested in this type of law as a revenue producing measure.

The County Commissioners have already gone on record as favoring a wholesale liquor law which would permit the county to operate a wholesale dispensary under a manager named by the County Board.
